Will And Ring Take In Sights Of New York

(Special To The News)

NEW YORK, April 18.—Ring Lardner and I are seeing New York tonight and he has promised to say a few words of cheer to you. All I do is pay for the theatre tickets and when the show drags I will laugh at him. Mr. Lardner now speaking, "Good evening, newspaper fans, I used to have to write in the newspapers for a living, too, it must be awful hard. Georgie Cohan is producing a new baseball play of mine which I hope you get more laughs out of than I do going around with Will Rogers. I have a song hit in it, sung by a Scotchman entitled, "I Would Give a Thousand Dollars To Be a Millionaire." That's all I will write for this guy for nothing. Yours, Ring Lardner."

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Can you give offhand the license number of your automobile? It is peculiar, but many drivers and owners of cars do not know the number of their car license. When an emergency arrives, it is necessary to refer to credentials to be certain of the figures.

Mayor W. H. Gillespie is planning to name a local committee to act in conjunction with city officials in making plans for entertaining the third class city convention, in this city in August. Representatives of all of the third class cities in the state will be here. New Castle has a chance this year to do some broadcasting for a real city. Previous conventions of the third class cities in New Castle have found it necessary to use cramped and inadequate quarters. Conditions are such at the present time that a most fitting program can be arranged.

Announcement by President N. W. Elliott, of the Elliott-Blair Company is another added to the already long list showing that New Castle is fast stepping ahead, industrially. His plant is operating to capacity, and there are many orders at hand. New Castle progresses.

Farm Agent H. R. McCulloch's announcement that the freezing weather the past week or more has not damaged fruit prospects for Lawrence county, is a source of gratification. This should be a good fruit year in Lawrence county, and it is to be hoped that weather conditions are appropriate.

Council's action on the measure providing for paving of Blaine street should be commended. It is rather a deplorable state of affairs, when such a street as Blaine street proved to be for several weeks during the spring and winter, is allowed to exist without improvement, within a short distance of the magnificent Scottish Rite cathedral, almost at the very front door, so to speak. Blaine street paving is an improvement that should be completed before another winter, at least that portion between Lincoln and Wallace avenues.

There are some auto drivers that do not appear to be possessed of good sense, to state it mildly. Last night, as a score or more persons waited on the curb to board the Highland car, standing in the street nearby, a driver went between the safety zone and the curb at forty miles an hour speed. It was a sample of what we would term extremely reckless driving.

Boys of the county schools are not waiting for warm weather to inaugurate the baseball season. They urate with the big leaguers. Reports of games are coming in from various centres about the county.

When one goes into the office of the Bell Telephone company today, he may well think that he is walking the plank, for that is what he really is doing. For it is a gang plank. The entrance is being lowered. And as Pa Newc sauntered in, one of the office girls asked him: "Well, did you make the boat?"

And City Manager John R. Dunfee tells Pa Newc an old saw which is

Pardon Board Hears Argument In Fisher's Case

Plea Is Made For Liberation Of Willie Fisher, Serving Time For Bank Robbery

DECISION LATER BY PARDON BOARD

Claim Fisher Only Drove Bandits' Car During Sensational Robbery Here

(From News Bureau) (State Capital)

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 18.—Argument was presented to the pardon board today for a pardon for William Fisher, 25 who is serving a term in the penitentiary in connection with the robbery of the Union National bank of New Castle in 1921. Fisher was sentenced to serve from 15 to 18 years.

Former Lieutenant Governor David J. Davis of Scranton and former Auditor General Archibald W. Powell of Erie presented the argument before the board.

Fisher at the time of the holdup was a boy of 18 and was engaged by three other men to drive the car used in connection with the robbery, Davis said.

He was not armed during the robbery, it was argued and when arrested pleaded nolle contendere.

Since his imprisonment he was transferred to Fairview the penitentiary for the criminally insane. After being treated there for more than a year he was returned to Rockview where he is now imprisoned.

His mental condition has been normal since coming back from Fairview the board was told.

During the argument Attorney General Baldridge mentioned the fact that Fisher had been locked in a cell on a charge of conspiracy to escape.

It is better to pardon him than have him escape it was replied. This incident happened last October.

Davis said that Fisher's parents reside in Toledo, O.

A Detroit automobile dealer has agreed to stand sponsor for him in the event he is pardoned.

Two previous attempts to gain a pardon were turned down by the former board. Davis at that time was chairman. Powell told the present board that he was told when the application was presented to come back later after it could be ascertained that his mental cure is permanent.

A decision will be made later.

Gas From Leaking Pipe Believed Ignited By Table Lamp Cause Of Fire

(International News Service)

SISTERSVILLE, W. Va., April 18.—The charred bodies of four children were removed from the ruins of their home, at McElroy Creek, Tyler County, 15 miles from here, today, following a fire which swept the upper story of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Denton Tennant. The dead are: Vonda, 8; Brooks, 10; Garnet, 7; and Betty Lee, 3.

Two older children, Harlie, 23, and Dannie 17, escaped from the flames but were given medical treatment at the home of a neighbor.

The parents, sleeping on the first floor of the house, were awakened at 11 p. m. last night to find the upper story of their home a roaring furnace. The two older children were able to leave the building before the blaze had cut off their escape.

Gas from a leaking pipe, ignited by a small lamp left burning on a table, was believed to have caused the fire. None of the household furniture was saved. Mr. and Mrs. Tennant were uninjured.

Lindbergh Has Praise For Crew Of Bremen Plane

Famous Flying Colonel Says Recent Flight From Ireland Most Hazardous

(International News Service)

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 18.—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh was warm in his praise here today for the achievement of the Irish-German Bremen aviators in making the first east to west flight across the Atlantic.

America's flying ace said that unquestionably the westward flight was more hazardous than an eastward one. Lindbergh classified the feat of the foreign aviators as another notch in the advancement of aviation.

Col. Lindbergh was back home here following his flight from the Pacific, as uncommunicative as ever in regard to his future plans.

Westminster College Graduates Enthuse At Annual Banquet

Lawrence County Adherents Of School Gather Tuesday Night At The Castleton

Colonel Dan McQuiston In Charge As Toastmaster; Basketball Champs Honored

Class identities were merged into a larger identification, that of Westminster graduates, on Tuesday evening, when the annual banquet of the Lawrence County Alumni Association of Westminster College was held in The Castleton. About 125 graduates attended, with the championship basketball team present as special guests.

It was the kind of an evening that only a college alumni association can produce. No other banquet has that peculiar something of an alumni banquet, and no other banquet starts the flow of reminiscences as does one of this kind. And the one Tuesday evening was typically Westminsterian.

Naval Fleet In Pacific Waters For Maneuvers

DESTROYERS ACT AS FLEET VANGUARD

Annual Spring Tactical Maneuvers Brings Together Mighty Naval Personnel

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—Bound for Hawaii to engage in the annual spring tactical maneuvers, the United States battle fleet, greatest armada ever assembled in western waters, was coursing the broad Pacific today.

Led by a vanguard of destroyers, the mighty flotilla, composed of more than 100 ships of the line, sailed out of the harbor at dawn.

Ten super-dreadnaughts, the backbone of the fleet, moved in the wake of the destroyers. Behind the dreadnaughts came an imposing array of ships of war, including cruisers, torpedo boats, submarines, airplane carriers and train divisions.

Admiral Steigner Commands

In the van of the dreadnaught formation sailed the flagship U. S. S. California, bearing the flag and person of Admiral Louis R. De Steigner, commander of the battle fleet.

Bringing up the rear was the U. S. S. Texas, carrying Admiral Hugh Wiley, highest ranking officer of the navy. Admiral Wiley will act as judge of the sham battle to be conducted against a theoretical enemy.

Secrecy surrounds the zero hour to be set for the opening of practice hostilities. The radio of the California will flash the "war declared" signals somewhere in mid-Pacific.

Dr. S. B. McCormick Dies At His Home Near Coraopolis

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 18.—Dr. Samuel B. McCormick, 70, chancellor emeritus of the University of Pittsburgh and nationally known educator, died at his home at Coraopolis Heights today of pneumonia, after short illness.

Dr. McCormick was responsible to a large measure for the growth of Pitt from a small college to one of the largest institutions of higher learning in the country.

When the going is hard and the sledding is tough, and the storm of adversity blows, it's then that the spirit comes up to the top, it's then that the champion shows. He buckles hard down to the task to be done, nor asks for a thing that is wrong, and loses no time in the work as he goes, and you'll find that he finishes strong. He wins with a smile and he loses the same, his demeanor he changes no whit, if the game comes to him, he accepts it and smiles, success never hurts him a bit. In sport or in business the champion stands, fighting hard, but observing fair play, he's a champ that's the reason, he cannot be licked, weather's warm, fifty-seven today.

New Municipal Garbage Furnaces Operate Without Burning Coal

Some 20 truckloads of garbage are burned each day at the new municipal garbage furnace on the Harbor road, and no coal has been used since the furnace was started some two months ago. And last year in the old style furnace nearly 1,000 tons of coal were used, according to Howard Phillips, superintendent of garbage for the city.

Mr. Phillips says that the chief reason the new furnace works so well is because of the principle of the preheater and fan, whereby all the air taken into the furnace is heated red hot before it is forced through the burning garbage by the large fan.

Needs No Coal

When the fire was first kindled some of the wood from store boxes of pine is used, and thereafter not only is it not necessary to use any coal or other fuel besides the garbage itself, and after burning between 20 and 30 loads of garbage there are only about three wheelbarrows of ashes left and the bulk of these ashes are such things as tin cans, barrel hoops, nails, pieces of dishes and glass that should not have been placed with the garbage for the furnace.

And the remarkable thing about the new incinerator is the fact that there is practically no odor about the plant. Even the smokestack shows no smoke pouring out of the stack, aside from a thin veil of whitish vapor. It even burns the smoke and most of the ashes.

During the past few weeks the furnace has been run only five days a week, the last load being put in on Friday evening and no more being placed in until Monday morning. Yet no fuel is added and it is not necessary to rekindle the fire after it has been allowed to lay idle for over two days, Mr. Phillips relates. The fireman merely closes all the drafts after the last load is dumped and the fire is allowed to smoulder in the pile of garbage in the furnace until Monday morning. Then the drafts are opened and the smouldering pile of garbage is raked to the front of the furnace, the fan turned on and in a few minutes the garbage is again a mass of flames with a temperature of near 2,000 degrees fahrenheit.

Garbage is hauled to the garbage plant in large trucks and dumped directly into the top and back of the furnace from doors in the floor overhead. Nothing can be seen of the furnace from the upper floor except these doors. Going below by a stairway one can see the furnace with three sections, each one having a door into the furnace above the grates through which the garbage is stirred, and a door below the grates from which the ashes are taken.

Garbage Dried Out

When the garbage is dumped in from above it lies in a pile in the rear of the furnace, where it is quickly dried out by the tremendous heat of near 2,000 degrees. Then it is pulled forward upon the grate bars in the front of the furnace, where it is rapidly consumed by the terrific blaze fanned by the red-hot draft of air forced through the grate bars from beneath.

As the air passes from the furnace it is drawn into the combustion chamber, where the carcasses of animals

New Outbreak In China's War

Report Engagements Are In Progress Along 400-Mile Front

SPRING OFFENSIVE BELIEVED UNDER WAY

International News Service.

LONDON, April 18.—War clouds loomed darker over the Chinese horizon today.

Sanguinary engagements between the Nationalists and northerners are being fought along a 400 mile front according to the Daily Express from its Tokio correspondent.

British vessels have been fired upon nine miles below Hankow according to a dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company from Hong Kong.

The Nationalists are reported to be advancing along the entire battle line. In the providence of Shantung the Northerners are said to be retreating in wild disorder with heavy losses. Kwangsi troops are reported to have captured Leng Cheng.

The drive marks the opening of the long expected spring offensive of the Nationalists with Pekin as their objective.

The Japanese government is watching the situation closely. The Japanese warship Yamashiro and the cruiser Kasuka are sailing for Tsingtau on Friday to protect Japanese lives and interests it was announced at Tokio. It is anticipated that Japanese marines will be landed in the Chinese war zone.

Birger May Hang Thursday Morning

Not Likely That Any Further Reprieve Will Now Be Granted

International News Service.

BENTON, Ill., April 18.—Plans for the execution of Charlie Birger, notorious Southern Illinois gangster, were taken up today where they left off last Thursday when Birger was given a five-day reprieve to inquire into his sanity.

He is scheduled to hang at ten o'clock tomorrow morning for the murder of Joe Adams, mayor of West City. The new date of execution was fixed after a jury in Franklin county circuit court returned a verdict finding Berger "not insane."

The jury was out only twelve minutes. Only one witness testified for the defense.

The supreme court has already ruled on Birger's case, having affirmed the hanging verdict. Failure of the sanity trial cut off the slayer's last avenue of escape.

used about telephone offices concerning putting telephones on boats. When he was in the Pittsburgh office, he says, one of the electricians, perhaps a trifle thicker than others, actually started out to install a telephone on a river boat. Although Pa Newc doubted it from the first, yet it makes a good story.

Still another suggestion about naming the new airport on the Harlansburg road comes to Pa Newc, this time from E. T. Irwin of 302 West Cherry street. "Dear sirs," he writes, "on account of our mayor presenting Clarence D. Chamberlin with a tin key to our city, why not go a little bit stronger and advertise our new flying field on the Harlansburg highway as the 'Tin City Airport'? This is my suggestion." And Pa Newc believes that Mr. Irwin's suggestion is a good one.

Pa Newc has often commented on the fact that New Castle is fast becoming the convention center for the western part of the state. Now it comes home. Next week Rotarians from the 33rd district will assemble at New Castle. May 14 and 15, credit managers from all over Pennsylvania will come to New Castle. Early in September foundrymen will convene here. And representatives of the Lions club are going to Norristown to try and bring the next state convention of their club to New Castle. New Castle is big: it is getting bigger.

Another suggestion which would serve to improve conditions in the city was told to Pa Newc by one of his friends who prefers to remain nameless. It concerns the removal of tin cans by the city. This man suggests that a notice be placed in the newspaper a few days before the collection is to be made. It would give everyone time to get their old cans collected and put in barrels at a place where the collectors can get them. What do you think?

It is not often lately that Pa Newc gets to see Andy, his friend who sweeps the north side of Washington street. Andy is busy. But yesterday Andy had a few free moments, and so we discussed this and that, ending up with the classic languages, and Latin in particular. Andy is a Latin scholar. But his accent is abominable. Yet he can make himself understood, which is more than thousands who got their Latin in schools can do. Andy never took the language in school. He "just picked it up."

Spaghetti always seems to bother those who are not born somewhere near the shores of the Mediterranean basin. But last night two members of the News force, one a Pennsylvania German and the other an Englishman, wrapped it with the best of them.

program of speaking and entertainment took less than 90 minutes, which in itself establishes a record for indoor oratory.

Colonel Dan McQuiston of New Wilmington was the toastmaster of the evening and that old-time military precision with which he moved a battalion during the World War, moved his program along spiritedly. He was introduced by the president of the association, Attorney Homer C. Drake, who took little time in his work, preferring to allow the toastmaster ample time for his.

Dean Charles Freeman, whose work has been woven into the fabric of Westminster for four decades, was the first speaker of the evening and any program that has Dean Freeman as a part of it has the first element of success. The dean went back into history a bit and talked of the times when the faculty of Westminster was composed of but eight professors. Running along in this vein, he brought the history up to the present time when Westminster is on the verge of an expansion that will carry it far.

"To the Champions"

Gilbert Long, an oratorical descendant of Bill Nye, was selected to give the toast "To the Champions", and did so, which is all that you might expect. Mr. Long uncovered a vein of dry humor which will be utilized later when he is admitted to the Lawrence county bar. He presented the basketball team with the trophy symbolical of the tri-state basketball championship the team won. In size it is a trifle smaller than a blast furnace, and if it were solid silver would be valuable enough to pay the war debt of Czecho-Slovakia.

Responding to the address of Mr. Long, Captain Tudor Lewis, captain-elect Charles Ayers and Coach John Lawther spoke. Dr. W. Charles Wallace, president of Westminster, spoke at length upon the present expansion program of Westminster College and visioned the Westminster that is to come, a college of adequate facilities, of larger vision and greater possibilities. Attorney Roy Mercer, president of the General Alumni Association, concluded the speaking program with a few brief remarks.

During the course of the dinner Andy McDonald, graduate manager of Westminster athletics, conducted the pep singing. The invocation was delivered by Dr. C. J. Williamson, pastor of the Highland United Presbyterian church. A feature of the evening was a musical program presented by Allan B. Davis, director of the conservatory of music of Westminster. He was accompanied by Mrs. Davis.

Following the program the officers of the association were elected, or rather, re-elected. Judge James A. Chambers took charge of the election and President Homer C. Drake, Secretary Mrs. Albert B. Street and Treasurer Frank Burton were re-elected.

A short dancing program followed the program and election. It was one of the most successful alumni banquets held in years, had more color and snap to it than many of the others, and seemed to reflect the spirit which has marked Westminster College in the past few years.

Hughes was made assistant general superintendent of the bar mills of the Youngstown district in March, 1906, and five years later he was made general superintendent of these mills. He continued in this capacity until 1916, when he became assistant general superintendent of the entire Youngstown district.

In June of that year Hughes went to Ojibway, Ontario,, as general superintendent in charge of the Canadian Steel Company's project at that point. In 1918 he was transferred to the office of general superintendent to the operations carried on at Neville Island by the United States Steel Corporation for the government in the construction of projected ordnance plant.

When this project was closed because of the ending of the war, Hughes was made president of the Lorain Steel Company at Johnstown, taking up the duties of his office in May, 1919, and on January 1, 1920, he was made general superintendent of all operations of the Carnegie Steel Company in the Youngstown district. He later was appointed to the office of vice president of the Carnegie Steel Company in the Youngstown district. are burned. From this combustion chamber half of the air current passes out through the flue and the 80-foot stack, while the other half passes through the pre-heater in which the air drawn in from the outside by the large fan is heated to a temperature of nearly 2,000 degrees before it is forced up through the burning garbage from beneath the grate bars.

Mr. Phillips says that it is on account of this pre-heater that they can so thoroughly burn the garbage. This heater works on the same principal as a tubular boiler in which the water around tubes is heated by the fire passing through the tubes into the smokestack. In this case the fire also passes through a set of tubes and the cold draft of air is heated in the space through which the tubes pass.

Thus the air filled with oxygen does not enter the fire in a cool state, but is heated red hot and forced into the furnace and thus the ardor of the fire is not cooled in the least but fanned into intensity by the strong draft of red hot, oxygen-laden air.

In the combination chamber carcasses of animals are placed, it being large enough for a horse or the body of a cat or dog can as easily be burned there. A carriage is being secured whereby a carcass is lowered upon it by a block from the floor above and the carriage and carcass pushed into the combustion chamber and with the terrific draft of hot air circulating about it it soon is reduced to ashes.

Two Furnaces

There are two of the furnaces, each one containing three compartments and a combustion chamber, and an 80-foot stack. It is thought that one furnace will take care of the garbage of the city, except on a real extra heavy day in the summer. But one can be used while the other is closed down for replacing any parts or repairs. Also the two furnaces will take care of all garbage of the city even looking forward to the greater enlargement of the city and its needs.

The new furnace will be quite a saving to the city, says Mr. Phillips for not only does it save an annual coal bill of about 1,000 tons, but on account of the convenience and efficiency of the furnace one man can do the work in less time than it took two men to do it in the older style of furnace.

Citizens of the city could assist in the work of the department if they would be more careful about the placing of tin cans, broken dishes, glass etc., among the garbage. Once a week, on Saturday, the garbage trucks gather up tin cans and other rubbish and this is not burned, but is dumped on the rubbish heap. Mr. Phillips says that it is likely that during the summer they will have to put another truck on and it is likely that rubbish will be hauled more frequently, perhaps every day.

Sidewalks Are Being Inspected

Mosely Warns Property Owners To See That Walks Are O. K.

Those residents of the city whose sidewalks are in a more or less dangerous condition had better get busy and have these sidewalks put in proper condition if they wish to avoid trouble with the city authorities. J. L. Mosely, the city sidewalk inspector, is now engaged in his annual inspection of sidewalks and he is quite busy. He has already warned numerous property owners to have their sidewalks put in first-class condition. One of the jobs now under way is that on Carlisle street. There are a number of places in that street where there is no sidewalk. These sidewalks are now being laid and should be completed in the near future.

MOTORIST PASSES STOPPED STREET CAR

It was reported to the police today that an automobile bearing Pennsylvania license B 1936 on Tuesday at 1:50 p. m. passed a street car, which was discharging and taking on passengers at the street car terminal, South Mill street and Market Way. Owing to the fact that the number is one that has not yet been received at the police station, it is being sent to the state highway department and as soon as the owner of the car has been determined, he will be ordered in before the mayor.

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT

A SHORT SESSION

The term of a representative in the General Assembly is two years. The General Assembly meets in session but once in that two years, except in rare instances when a special session is called.

The session itself lasts but a short time. That of 1927 lasted from January 4, to April 14, meeting for the most part on Monday night, Tuesday, and Wednesday morning. The number of days actually spent in session was less than 50.

In this short time a member must become acquainted, familiarize himself with the work of committees and do his share in the work of the session.

In his second term he is able to use to advantage, the work of the first session and this is just another reason why Lawrence county has believed in returning a member for his second term. It is efficiency, it is economy, it is common sense.

I am a candidate for nomination and re-election for the second term.

JUNKERS PLANE MAY BE USED AS MEANS OF RESCUE

Greenely Island with aviator Charles "Duke" Schiller to get spare parts for the Bremen, so that repairs could be made rested over night at Clarke City, near this place. Schiller had sent word back to Greenely Island that he would carry the three transatlantic flyers to Mitchell field or to Murray Bay, turning back from Clarke City. But up to the time this was written Schiller had not received any reply.

Communication Lines Swamped

Both the meager land lines and the radio are swamped with messages and hampered by foul weather.

The storms which drove the Bremen to earth, when its gasoline supply had become practically exhausted, have continued intermittently since last Friday. Gales of wind and snow sweep the gulf of St. Lawrence, driving dangerous ice floes through the water and darkening the air with whirling snow flakes. Flying conditions are perilous.

Miss Herta Junkers, who flew from Curtiss field, N. Y., to Montreal in the F-13, traveled on to Murray Bay by rail. There is a big depot at Murray Bay owned by Trans-continental Airways, Ltd.

The spectacular flight of the Bremen is almost equalled in interest by the dramatic circumstances which attended the end of the historic sky voyage.

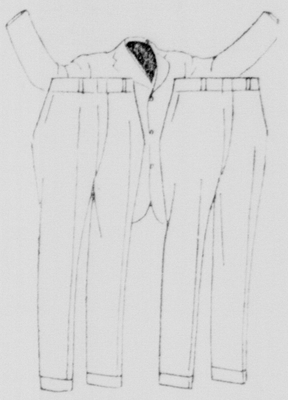

Forced down upon the surface of a frozen lake on Greenely Island after riding the clouds for 36 and one-half hours, Koehl and Von Huenefeld have maintained their vigil over their damaged machine upon the tiny, isolated and ice-bound island while the whole civilized world hungered for the details of their adventure.

Fragmentary news is coming out of Point Armour, the nearest wireless station to Greenely Island, throwing fresh light upon the hazardous venture of the daring airmen.

Throughout Thursday night Koehl and Fitzmaurice, alternately at the controls, held the Bremen on her westbound cource. They feel that victory was in their grasp when they ran into treacherous weather between 450 and 500 miles off the Newfoundland coast on Friday morning.

Correct this sentence: When he learned the city wanted his land for street widening purposes, he made up his mind to sell it for just what it was worth.

FRENCHMEN WHO MADE US VISIT REACH PARIS

FLYING low over the vicinity of Volant, in the northern end of Lawrence county a few weeks ago, was a strange aeroplane. It was in distress and the fliers appeared to be looking for a place to land. They did come down a few miles further on, in the vicinity of Sharpsville.

The fliers in that plane were the famous Frenchmen, who a few days since landed at Paris, after having added another great record to the history of aviation.

Discussing the flight and the record, the Philadelphia Inquirer gives the following illuminating comment:

The world-circling flight of France's greatest aviators, Dieudonne Costes and Joseph Lebrix, will live long in the annals of the air as a feat which will defy duplication. Consider what these two men have done. Starting from France last October they drove their plane over the Mediterranean, down the west coast of Africa and across the South Atlantic to Brazil. They were the first persons to make a non-stop flight between the continents of Africa and South America, all others who attempted it having been forced to use one or more of the intervening islands.

Next these adventurers flew southward through Brazil to Uruguay and to Buenos Aires, capital of the Argentine Republic. They surmounted the Andes to visit Chile and then made their way northward with stops at nearly all of the South American capitals until they reached Columbia. They went to Panama, where their path crossed the route of Lindbergh on his tour of the countries bordering the Caribbean. They continued northward on the mainland to Mexico while Lindbergh came up through the Antilles to Cuba. From Mexico Costes and Lebrix reached Washington and then New York in a few long hops. There it was proposed that they should crate their plane and take a steamship back to France, but in the midst of severe winter weather they flew across the United States and took a transpacific liner to Japan. Reassembling their plane, they left Tokio on Sunday, April 8; reached Hanoi in French Indo-China on Monday, Calcutta on Tuesday, Karachi on Wednesday, Aleppo on Thursday, Athens on Friday and Paris on Saturday.

At the beginning of their expedition they flew from Paris to South America in four days. At the end of it they flew from Japan to Paris in seven. During the last week they had averaged about four hours' sleep a night and had covered as much as 2500 miles without rest. On their whole expedition they failed only once to arrive on scheduled time. For actual performance this flight is surpassed only by the elaborately planned and organized round-the-world flight of the United States Army's Air Corps.

NEWSPAPERS' BIRTHDAY

APRIL 20 will be the 224th anniversary of the birth of the first American newspaper. On April 20, 1704, the first issue of "The Boston News Letter" came off the press. It must have been a history-making event in the then little town of Boston, although by twentieth century standards the newspaper was little more than a crudely printed handbill and the press upon which it was printed would not serve the purposes of an amateur today.

From that diminutive unattractive newspaper developed the voluminous dailies of this age. And the vast and tremendously powerful institution of American journalism as it exists today. The relationship between The Boston News Letter and the great metropolitan dailies or even the small city dailies is not apparent from a comparison of their physical features, and there is probably not a weekly newspaper today issued on as small and primitive a scale as was that first American newspaper.

Into the nearly two and a quarter centuries that have elapsed since The Boston News Letter made its debut journalism in the United States has packed a thousand years of development. There are newspapers today that contain more reading matter in one average issue than the pioneer papers printed in a year.

No one disputes the assertion that the United States owes to its newspapers much of the success of its government, much of its industrial development, the success of its great educational and welfare movements and institutions and not a little of its general prosperity and economic stability.

A LITTLE MORE SENSE SHOWN

THERE were fewer grade crossing accidents in 1927, with fewer resultant casualties, than there were in 1926. In 1926 there were 5890 such accidents, with 2491 fatalities and 6991 persons injured. In 1927 the number of such accidents was 5640 and 2371 persons were killed and 6613 were injured. The figures show quite a marked tendency in the right direction.

It may be that the total number of grade crossings were reduced a little in 1927 from what it was in 1926 but, on the other hand, there was an increase of 5 per cent in the number of automobiles in operation.

The decrease in the number of these almost always easily avoidable accidents may fairly be ascribed, no doubt, to the safety campaigns of such organizations as the National Safety Council and the American Automobile Association and the appeals of the newspapers.

But it seems strange that people have to be urged and urged not to risk their lives unnecessarily. The comparative grade crossing accident statistics for 1926 and 1927 are encouraging but this country still needs a great deal more common sense at the steering wheel.

The doctor motors over to the house to tell you walking is the best exercise.

The Irish flyer who came across from Europe in the airship, wants to fly back and make it a round trip. He evidently wants lots of punishment. We would rather he would go back by boat as he already has accomplished enough for one man.

Fall in with the other fellow's line of reasoning and immediately he sees you down as brilliant.

LIEUTENANT ROSENSTEIN DIDN'T SEND JEWISH BOYS

Racial and religious prejudices ought to be driven out of this country. There's no place for them in a true democracy. That's why we get such a lot of fun out of the story about a group of society ladies whose summer homes were near the Norfolk Navy Yard and who were entertaining a party of friends during the World war.

According to the story there were too many Shebas and not enough shieks, so one of the guests suggested, "Why not send to the navy yard for a couple of sailor men to fill in?"

"Fine," agreed the crowd.

So the hostess phoned to the navy yard: "Can you send me three sailors for our party? But do not send any Jewish boys."

Pretty soon there was a rap at the door and there stood three husky colored mess attendants, in spick-and-span blues.

"Who sent you?" asked the hostess.

"Lieutenant Rosenstein done sent us," replied one of the trio.

We have noticed that a whole lot of street has to be shut off in order to do a little bit of work. This is because so many do not take into consideration the things that go with work on streets. Often it has to be done for safety only.

The word "probably" is the weather man's shock absorber.

Henry Ford had tea with the king and queen of England and was also received by the Prince of Wales. Henry had better look out as he may be classed as aplute in this country after hobnobbing with the highbrows in Europe. We always like to think of Mr. Ford as a working man just like ourselves.

By the appearance of most highly educated women, one gathers that when young they had no temptations to take them away from their studies.

The successful trip of the three heroes by airplane from Europe to this country will no doubt start an epidemic of flying across the oceans this summer. There is always some one who thinks he can do better and usually there is.

The inventor of the safety pin is probably glad that nobody thought of it when he was a baby.

It was 2 in the morning and Ross made so much noise trying to locate the keyhole that his wife came down to the door.

"What's the matter?" she asked severely, well knowing when she gazed upon Ross, who was leaning in all too careless attitude against the railing.

"Found a fellow down on the porch tryin' to get into the house," he explained gibly.

"Do you know who he was?"

"Sure—he was me."

A Pittsburgh house painter in asking for a divorce from his wife declared she expressed the hope that he would fall from a ladder and get killed or that his auto would get wrecked and he perish that way. She also threatened to blow his head off with a revolver, threw a butcher knife at him last September, and several times threw dishes at him. He also had to sleep in the garage because his wife had the door locked when he returned from lodge meeting. Outside of that everything was nice.

For some years two light poles stood in front of The News office. If they had not been lighted at night the street in front of the post office and The News office would have been the darkest places in Lawrence county. It cost the city nothing for the light. We gave the poles away to the Senior High school and they have been placed in front of that building. Now we fear we will have to buy some more lights, as the lighting system to be placed on Mercer street is not going to be very extravagant in front of The News office. We shall see what we shall see in a few days—or perhaps in a few nights.

Secretary Davis' Example.
Extra! Terrible Trust.

(Copyright, 1928, by N. Y. American, Inc.)

E. M. Statler, who built many hotels providing comfort for hundreds of thousands, died suddenly Monday. He will meet William Shenstone, who wrote:

Who'er has travell'd life's dull round,
Where'er his stages may have been,
May sigh to think he still has found
The warmest welcome at an inn.

Ten young soldiers went up together in a three-engine, metal Ford airplane. The ten all jumped together, with parachutes, and all landed safely, breaking the simultaneous parachute jumping record.

Army aviators have enthusiasm, because Mr. Davis, secretary of war, sets the example in flying, and his assistant, Trubee Davison, although smashed up in an airplane accident at the beginning of the war, is another constant flier.

Men are ready to follow where their superiors lead.

London worries about great newspaper trusts. Rothermere, Beaverbrook and one or two others threaten to swallow all the newspapers of Great Britain.

There is one consolation in dealing with newspapers, the people have the initiative, referendum and recall. They can buy or refuse any papers—and they can ruin any paper by refusing to buy it.

They would be better off if they had the same power over elected officials.

Rubber workers in Brazil hurry down the Amazon to the place where Henry Ford has bought rubber concessions from the state of Para. They hear that Henry Ford pays big wages—he does—and they all want to work for him.

Led by real estate will-o'-the-wisps, a lot of Americans rushed to buy land, more or less in the neighborhood of Muscle Shoals, under the impression that Ford would come down and make the land worth 10 times its real value. Ford did his best to stop that expensive foolishness, but it was impossible.

Lord Birkenhead, one of England's really intelligent statesmen, protested against the British film, "Dawn", showing the life and death of Edith Cavell, executed by Germans as a spy.

Lord Birkenhead says the question is "Do we desire, or do we not desire, that a new era of peace should dawn in Europe?"

France and other nations in the course of bitter war executed women as spies. It was necessary, as part of the Allies' war policy, to kill, through disease brought on by semi-starvation, thousands of German children. All that is part of a horrible past and its memory should not be kept alive for money-making purposes.

The film "Dawn" should not be exhibited in this country.

The Bolshevik government will send out 50 scientific expeditions this year, some far into the north, some to the Crimea, the Caucasus, Turkestan and Mongolia.

Scientific facts and new sources of wealth will be explored.

Russia has not shown much energy since Peter the Great sent expeditions to open mines in distant parts of the empire.

Revolution is rough, but it does stir men's minds.

The League of Nations statistical department says countries engaged in the big war had a total population of 1,400,000,000 and that war cost 37,000,000 human lives.

Ten million one hundred and thirty-five thousand were killed in the war. Births, on account of fathers being away, etc., diminished by 20,850,000. "Spanish flu" and other causes increased civilian mortality by 6,916,000.

These frightful figures should make peace permanent, but they won't. All that horror would be forgotten in the first flaming up of international hatred. The fighting dog doesn't remember the wounds of his last fight.

American travelers buying American cars of American make in Europe are compelled to pay duty when they bring those cars into the United States. President Coolidge is requested to stop that nonsense.

If traveling Americans have sense enough to buy good American cars abroad, instead of snobbishly buying cars of European make, for heaven's sake encourage them. American labor is in those cars. American manufacturers have made the profit. What more does the tariff want?

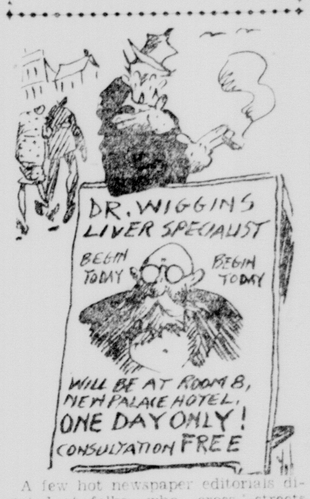

A British woman, Lady Heath, without saying much about it, casually flies all by herself from Egypt to London. If Dido, queen of Carthage, had enjoyed such facilities, her story would have been told differently.

Bible Thought For Today

FORGET NOT GOD—How shall we sing the Lord's song in a strange land? If I forget thee, O Jerusalem let my right hand forget her cunning. —Psalm 137, 4, 5.

A few hot newspaper editorials directed at folks who "cross" streets without lookin' right or left, an' who deliberately an' defiantly walk in front o' fast movin' cars, might save a lot more lives than hoppin' on careless drivers.

I notice several of our farmers are goin' t' try it again this year.

Dr. Crane's Editorial

RICH MENS' SONS

McClure's magazine recently carried an interesting article about the activities of rich mens' sons.

As far as we can see they are much like anybody else's sons.

We commonly think of the sons of rich men as sitting around on the hotel porch at Palm Beach in white flannels, or yachting on the South Seas or some sort of thing like that. But probably there are as many idle sons of poor men.

Of course poor mens' sons have to work sometimes in order to eat, but necessity is not the only thing that makes men work.

There is boredom. Ennui has considerable punch in making men get up and hustle.

The article in question says that two dozen young men, all sons of wealthy men, are building air routes, manufacturing and piloting planes, backing inventors and subsidizing aerial schools, and all without the hope of financial return for years to come.

Earl Reeves, the author of the article in question, mentions Sherman Fairchild, who inherited forty millions. In his early twenties he invented a camera now in universal use. He is now manufacturing planes and projecting aerial commutation lines from New York to open in the spring.

Harold F. Pitcairn, heir to some $20,000,000 plate glass fortune, backs the New York-Atlanta air mail route and is a pilot himself, as well as operating two flying fields and an aerial school in Philadelphia.

Edsel Ford, the son of a man considered by some to be the richest man in the world, might loaf and puff cigarettes for a million years or so if he lived that long. He is not going to live that long and gets his fun out of building air planes and transplanting mail and express between Detroit and Chicago, Cleveland and Buffalo.

Charles L. Lawrence, who designed the "Whirlwind" engine which took Lindbergh, Byrd and Chamberlin across the Atlantic, is an engineering executive of the Wright Company, although his family fortune would have served him for life.

J. R. Cunningham is the son of a Portland millionaire, but he works as a mail pilot on the coast for a living, and is flying around in order to learn about commercial aviation.

Harry F. Guggenheim, son of the copper magnate, who was a war pilot, now is head of the $2,500,000 fund for the promotion of aeronautics, sponsor of Lindbergh's all-American tour.

Aviation seems to offer just about enough adventure and novelty to interest rich young men.

Tomorrow—Brains.

VITAMINS

Vitamins or no vitamins, a perfect unscientific view of the situation leads one to believe that bad cooking has a lot to do with domestic upset and good cooking has a profound influence on human happiness.

RUSSIA ON THE MOVE

Russia shows creditable activity at least one way. One million men are employed by Russian railways. That is 50 per cent more than were employed in 1913, in the days of Czar Nicholas. Russia is advertising the cheapest and quickest route from Europe to China, by way of the Trans-Siberian line. To go by train takes thirteen days from Paris. Improvement in the service is shown by the reduction of 48 hours in the running time between Moscow, the Russian capital, and Vladivostock on the Pacific.

MY FRIEND'S FRIENDS

I have a friend who has a friend,
A man I've never seen;
Unto his courage there's no end,
His hands are always clean.
He has no weakness to defend,
No vicious traits or mean.

Of him I've never heard it told
That he is false or base.
A cunning trickster seeking gold,
A fawner, seeking place;
Man's common failings, centuries old,
On him have left no trace.

And should I never meet him here
This only could I say,
That one there is who holds him dear
And speaks his praise today.
Who sees his splendor shining clear
And hides his faults away.

Friend of my friend your worth I know,
'Tis often told to me.
If you had faults they do not show
Or them he will not see.
Fame may be sweet to win, but oh,
Your friend's friend I would be.

FROGS, TOADS AND SKEPTICS.

William J. Roberts of Rigby, Pennsylvania, writes a challenge to my skepticism about horned toads that live for 30 years in cornerstones. In this column recently expressed grave doubts that any kind of toad or frog ever lived in any stone whether on the corner of a building or in the middle of a dessert for 30 years or even 30 days.

"When I was a boy in school I read this sentence" says Roberts. "'Living toads are sometimes found in the middle of huge rocks.' After I went to work in Pennsylvania I was talking to a friend about freaks of this kind. Here is his story:

"'We wer working with crowbars in limestone at the edge of a hill. Raising a layer about four feet square to a height of four inches a green frog jumped out. He jumped twice, landing three or four feet from where he started and died after winking a couple of times. The imprint of the frog's body was plainly visible in the rock after we overturned the layer.' I have no reason to doubt his story.

"Also a few years ago in New Wilmington, some repairs were being made to college walls. A space about four inches wide was found in a wall and a large toad was taken out alive but with his toenails gone. The wall had been built 22 years before I believe these stories to be true."

Mr. Roberts is more credulous than I, I must admit. Belief is something that comes slowly to me. Such things as Mr. Roberts has related I accept as interesting statements I place them on a little mind-shelf labeled "Queer and Questionable."

Mrs. Esta Toothman, San Bernardino, California, writes that the poem "The Sampler" may be found in McGuffey's Reader page 163. She mentions these other favorite poems that may be found in that reader: My Mother's Bible, The Mariner's Dream, Forty Years Ago, The Blue and The Gray, The Heritage, The Village Blacksmith, My Mother's Hands, The Battle of Blenheim, Lord Ullin's Daughter, The Grandfather, The Singing Lesson, Room Redbreast.

Many of my older readers will find recollections rushing back upon them as they read the titles of these old poems. McGuffey's was a little before my own time in school but my elder sister and brother had studied in the McGuffey series and I recall many of the poems mentioned by Mrs. Toothman from hearing them read aloud as we sat about the stove on winter evenings when I was extremely young.

BELL OFFICIALS HERE ON VISIT

General Manager F. J. Chesterman Here For District Conference

F. J. CHESTERMAN
President and General Manager

"During the past year, 791,000 additional telephones were put in service, making a total number in the United States, inter-connected in and with the Bell system at the end of the year, 18,365,000," was the statement made by F. J. Chesterman, vice president and general manager of the Bell Telephone company, who was in New Castle Tuesday to preside at a conference of the local heads of departments regarding the telephone situation in and around New Castle.

Mr. Chesterman expressed himself as being pleased with the strides which are being made in the improvement and development of the telephone in this immediate territory. He also commented favorably on the enlargement of telephone service.

"The technical service objective of the company," declared Mr. Chesterman, "is that calls shall be handled courteously, accurately and promptly. The successful realization of this objective is dependent upon the provision of a sufficient amount of proper equipment, on a sufficient number of employes trained effectively to handle the great variety of service requirements, and on an adequate sense of the public's need, with operating practices definitely shaped to meet these needs."

Those who accompanied Mr. Chesterman to New Castle are: C. E. Malley, general commercial manager; C. R. Freehafer, general traffic manager; J. R. MacGregor, chief engineer; H. R. Clegg, division plant manager; E. A. McDonough, division traffic manager; and W. E. Quinby, assistant to the vice president and general manager.

Local arrangements for the meeting were in the hands of W. R. Bingham, district manager; C. A. Bolen, district superintendent of plant, and M. S. Albertson, district superintendent of traffic.

Pupils Parade As Protest Against Action Of Board

(International News Service)

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., April 18.—Following a student "strike" Monday, when 400 pupils paraded the streets here, refusing to attend classes, the St. Clairsville High school today faced the possibility of a "faculty strike."

The students refused to return to school Monday as a result of the forced resignation of J. H. Earps, principal, Saturday. Earps had been charged with stealing candy from a confectionery. He is said to have admitted the charge, declaring that he and several students committed the theft "in a spirit of play."

District Heads Have Conference

To discuss plans for progress within the company during the summer months, a conference of the district department heads of the Bell Telephone Company was held this morning at 9:30 in the company's offices on South Mercer street.

Those who attended the conference were W. R. Bingham, manager of the New Castle district; L. C. Shaughnessy, of Sharon; B. C. McCune of Rochester, and John R. Dunfee, office manager at New Castle.

in some ways since the Great War. Before the war Russia had 42,500 miles of railway in operation. During the war a quarter of the trackage was destroyed. Now there are more miles than in 1914. Russia, not yet a success in government, will bear watching.

PUZZLERS

Some weeks ago the National Puzzlers' League held a convention in Philadelphia. They discussed all kinds of puzzles from cross-word up or down. Anagrams, rebuses, and the like have not lost their charm for thousands. Puzzlers belong to the class psychologists call "introverts." They find self expression and satisfaction within themselves. They care less for social contacts than others. Puzzles occupy and please them more than conversation. If you find most of life's rewards in the society of others you are not an introvert. You are an extrovert. By the expert direction of psychologists and psychiatrists the human being learns about itself.

WONDERING WHY

A university man, graduate of a well-known school, was recently employed to teach social science in an important high school. Before he could begin, the police had landed him for theft. Twenty watches and other articles of value were found in his room. His excuse was that he was "broke" and needed money to support his family.

It would be interesting to know how much heredity and how much environment is in this young man's case. Could we find the real CAUSE for this sort of behavior we should take a tremendous step in human progress. Somewhere in that brain there is an empty spot—or something which doesn't belong there.

NEW YORK, April 18.—Seen and heard at Times Square, the crossroads of the world:

Fred Fisher, the Jewish boy who wrote "Japansy,"—also "Ireland Must Be Heaven Because My Mother Came From There." A Philadelphia taxicab, probably carrying a "big spender" who thought it'd be fun to run up a $100 charge. "Bleeve me, I told her something. I did! I said, 'You ain't anybody who can talk about anybody! I know you!'" An old negro, bent and shuffling, buying the Atlantic Constitution at the out-of-town newsstand. Lew Fields, who now and then teams up again with his old partner, Joe Weber, for a benefit performance. He's now a producer of musical comedies, none of which have comedians nearly as funny as Weber and Fields.

Laurette Taylor, the actress, who still looks as young as she did when she played "Peg o' My Heart." A man selling the "Birth Control Review". A woman without stockings. Buster Keaton, seeing the Broadway sights, unrecognized, with Ed Sedgwick, his director. One taxi-driver trying to jam a rival's vehicle into the curb. "Who'n the blank-blank yuh think yuh are—Lindbergh?" Idle actors. A lot of them are out of jobs because they refused to go on the road after the conclusion of Broadway runs of shows. What've they got against Lexington, Ky., and Dubuque, Ia., and Augusta, Me.?

The Earl of Amherst, who is plain Jeffrey Holmesdale to fellow newspaper reporters. "Harry, you better not let your wife see us." A woman smoking a cigaret on the street still attracts attention in New York. A man in riding trunks on a bicycle, oblivious of passing stares. Busy New Yorkers in a little throng, gazing at a hawker doing tricks with a dangling paper toy.

The story is being told that Thomas Edison was standing outside his laboratory after the evening dismissal whistle blew. He noticed one of his employes leaving with a loaded brief case. The inventor made inquiries and found the employe was in the habit of taking work home. He was fired.

"If you can't do your work in eight hours a day, then the job is too big for you," Edison is quoted as saying.

NEURITIS PAINS VANISHED SINCE HE GOT KONJOLA

New Castle Man Tells How The New Medicine Restored His Health.

"In the more severe cases of neuritis the pains are piercing, just like hot knives cutting into the nerves," said the Konjola Man, yesterday, at the Love & Megown drug store, 204 East Washington St., New Castle, where he is personally introducing the new medical product, Konjola, to the people of this vicinity.

"Many authorities have stated that the agony of neuritis is likened unto an electrical shock, the shooting pains may effect the sufferer at frequent intervals. Some call the affliction neuralgia, while others say it is like rheumatism, but in either event, it is a terrible affliction and one of the most agonizing diseases mankind is heir to", continued the Konjola Man.

"It is surprising what this new medical preparation, Konjola, will accomplish in so many cases of neuritis suffering. By invigorating the inner organs and cleansing the system of poisons, this Konjola brings amazing relief to the neuritis sufferer. For instance, just the other day, Mr. James McCart, McClelland Ave., New Castle, made the following statement:

"I had neuritis for a long time", said Mr. McCart, "The pains centered in my arms and shoulders. At times I would feel numb from the tips of my fingers to my elbows, but most of the time, my shoulders would be a solid mass of aches and pains. Many times I would have to be helped out of bed in the mornings and I never could do my work the way I should. Finally it seemed like my entire back was effected with this terrible disease. My kidneys were very weak and I would have to rise several times during the night. But these were not my only ailments as I was troubled with my stomach. After every meal I would suffer from indigestion pains. With all these miseries to bother me I was very discouraged and was wondering if I would ever be well again.

"I decided to give this Konjola a trial after it had helped my wife so much. It seemed to go to the very source of my trouble. In just a few days the pains were easing up and I kept right on taking this medicine. Now I am in the best of health and no one would never know that I had a sick day in my life. All the neuritis pains are gone and I can do my work without suffering like I did before. My kidneys and stomach are normal and I can hardly realize I ever suffered with these organs. In every way I feel like a different person and I have a lot of faith in Konjola, so I am indorsing it to others so that they may benefit as I have."

The Konjola Man is at the Love & Megown drug store, 204 East Washington St., New Castle, where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy.

Your Partners

The professional painter and pure lead paint have saved homes by the thousands. Make them your partners.

YOU can make your home safe against the elements simply by employing two partners. One is the professional painter. His skill assures the proper mixing and application of the paint. The other is pure lead paint—the standard for generations . . . the choice of skilled painters everywhere.

For lasting, economical protection, get these two partners on the job. Your own skilled painter will tell you how lead paint made with Dutch Boy white-lead has for years guarded homes like yours. This paint does not crack and scale. When repainting time eventually comes, there is no old, scaly paint to be burned or scraped off—a job which sometimes costs as much as the actual repainting itself.

Mixed for each job

Dutch Boy white-lead, in either heavy paste or soft paste form, is sold by leading paint dealers.

Mixed with linseed oil, it produces a superior gloss paint for exterior use. Mixed with Dutch Boy flatting oil, it makes a thoroughly washable flat paint for interiors. In either case, the paint can be colored to exactly the tint or shade you desire.

Free to property-owners

Write our nearest office for the booklet "The House We Live In." It tells important facts about painting; also how to select colors for exterior and interior work.

White Lead in NEW FORM

Dutch Boy soft paste white-lead, a new product, thins to brushing consistency at the rate of a gallon of paint a minute. It is wonderfully easy to use. Painters and other paint buyers: See your dealer about this remarkable product.

This trademark, a guarantee of high quality, is on all Dutch Boy products—white-lead, red-lead, linseed oil, flatting oil, solder, babbitt metal. ASKS RADIO BOARD RULE QUICKLY ON NEW APPLICATIONS

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 18.—American newspapers Tuesday urged the Federal Radio commission to act promptly on applications for short wave lengths to facilitate the handling of news.

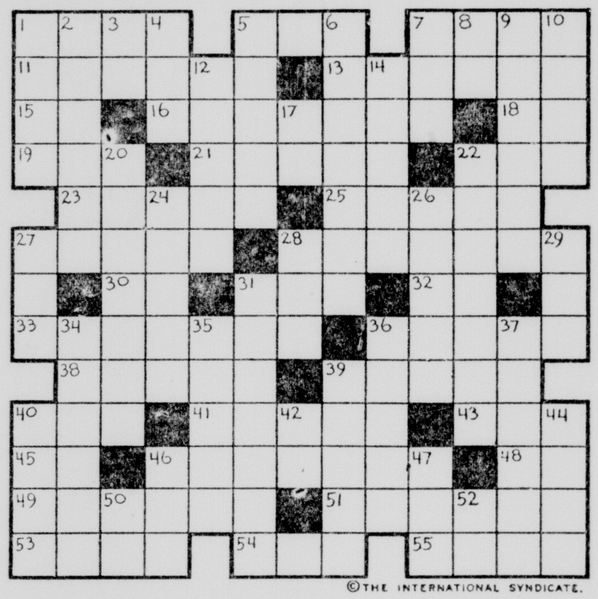

Joseph Pierson, representing a number of applicants, declared the press has a prior right on radio channels because it serves a greater public than any other agency. He said there were 100,000,000 readers of daily newspapers.

Press associations and newspapers send out 500,000 words daily, using 250,000 miles of telegraph wires and 12,000 miles of radio channels, he stated.

SUGGESTIONS FOR SOLVING CROSS-WORD PUZZLES

Start out by filling in the words of which you feel reasonably sure. These will give you a clue to other words crossing them, and they in turn to still others. A letter belongs in each white space, words starting at the numbered squares and running either horizontally or vertically or both.

Sore, Aching Feet

Tender feet—tired, aching, burning and swollen feet! The minute you put them into a "Tiz" bath you can feel the pain being drawn out and glorious comfort being restored.

"Tiz" draws out the poisons and acids that cause your feet to ache, swell and burn. It also takes the soreness out of corns, calluses and bunions. Get a box of "Tiz" at any drug or department store and have real foot comfort at last. Costs only a few cents.

PETER'S ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

A WISE CHOICE

Peter had settled himself upon the fence rail with his back against a post and it was so warm and bright and comfortable there that he decided to stay a while. He had closed his eyes to keep out of the glare of the sun when Kingbird made a remark that made him open them again in a hurry.

"Now, my dear wife, don't be so impatient and you shall have a delicious tidbit for dinner. Suppose I didn't catch that bee! You know I never snap at one unless I am perfectly sure it is a drone—and that fellow looked too small. Wait until a crowd of them leave the hive.

"It is so warm that the bees are certain to come out for a little while this afternoon. And I will pick out one for you, I promise. There! What did I tell you? Here comes a procession of them now, and unless they change their course they will fly this way."

Peter glanced around. Sure enough, for not far away from the fence rail was a hive and now out from the doorway came pouring the bees. One by one each bee stepped to the edge of the porch, spread its wings and launched itself upon the air, following the leader, who, just as Kingbird had said, and was headed directly his way.

Soon the head of the procession reached the spot where Kingbird and his wife were perching, and Peter expected to see them gobbled up. They passed in safety.

Kingbird looked at them sharply but made not the slightest effort to attack them. Bee after bee flew buzzing, past. Still Kingbird did not move.

The boy had almost decided he had been mistaken in what his friend had said when suddenly—Flutter! Pounce! Snap!—Kingbird had risen from his perch, had dropped upon an unsuspecting bee and picked him up in his hooked beak. And now Mrs. Kingbird was happily eating her dinner.

NEAR THE FENCE WAS A HIVE AND OUT FROM ITS DOORWAY CAME POURING THE BEES.

Peter sat bolt upright. He had grown to like Kingbird very much indeed,—he was so brave and swift and good-natured when he was not angered. But this last act of his didn't please him at all.

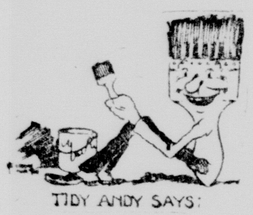

"Now that is too bad, Kingbird! Why did you do that?" cried Peter sharply. "The bees are good friends of mine—they are the best little people in the world. No race minds their own business better than bees do—they work like anything just to live—it seems to me that they don't have much fun. If the poor things wanted to have a few moments of pleasure in the bright sunshine why couldn't you have let them without gobbling one of them up? That is one less helper to make the honey that keeps them from starving. Besides I like honey, too."

Kingbird chuckled.

"So do I. Now listen, boy. I do like a bee to dine upon now and then I will admit—we Kingbirds consider them great delicacies. But let me tell you one thing. Not one of us ever picks up a worker or a Queen Bee to eat. We wait and watch all day if necessary—until a drone comes along. Let a drone venture within our reach and we grab him right away—a drone is no use in the hive, anyway—any bee will tell you that—and so we save the workers the trouble of killing him at the end of the season. Remember that and never believe anything else, no matter who tells you."

WASHINGTON, April 18.—A possible "fatal weakness" in the country's national defense plan prompted the leasing of Teapot Dome to Harry F. Sinclair, the defense implied today in the criminal conspiracy trial of the millionaire oil man through Admiral J. K. Robison, its "star witness".

Grave need for fuel oil brought about the lease, Robison testified. Although he did not mention the fact to the jury, he apparently was talking about the "Japanese war scare" of 1922, which was brought out in the conspiracy trial of E. L. Doheny, who acquired the other naval oil reserve.

Sinclair is charged with having bribed former Secretary of Interior Albert B. Fall to lease him the Teapot Dome oil reserve.

Defense Weakness.

"I told Fall," said Robison, "that in connection with the then situation of our nation, there was a great weakness in our national defense, and it would have been fatal in event of certain combinations against us."

Prosecutor Owen J. Roberts promptly took the witness on cross examination and developed that Robison and Sinclair had engaged in a poker game on the same night a supplemental lease on Teapot Dome was signed.

For the education of the jury, Roberts produced a letter Robison wrote Sinclair congratulating the oil man on his ability at poker.

PENNSY FREIGHT TRAIN WRECKED

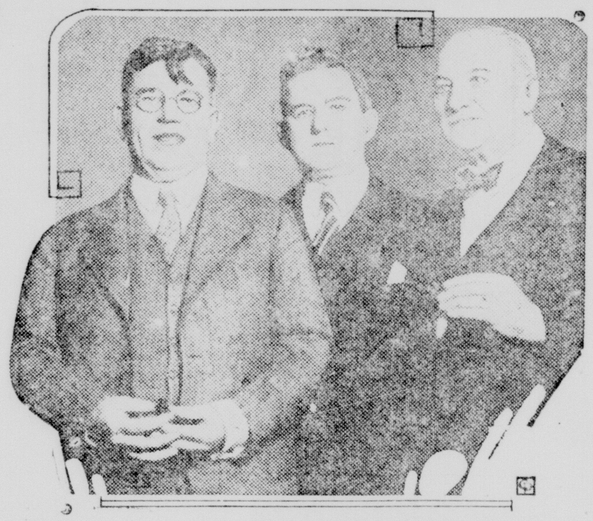

(International News Service)

LEWISTOWN, Pa., April 18.—Wrecking crews of the Pennsylvania railroad were today clearing three of the four tracks near Denholm which were blocked last night when 25 cars of a freight train were derailed. None was reported injured.

The cars were loaded with coal and merchandise.

Trainmen who inspected the scene said the wreck was caused by a defect in equipment on one of the cars.

RIVALS IN G. O. P. RACE ARE CHUMMY

Contrary to most political campaigns, Missouri is witnessing a friendly contest for the Republican nomination for governor. Three of the candidates are shown appearing on the same platform, at a rally in Kansas City, friendly as could be and free from worry of getting a "pineapple barrage," such as was dealt out to certain candidates in Chicago's recent election. The three contestants and buddies are, left to right: Henry S. Caulfield, of St. Louis; Phil A. Bennett, of Springfield, Mo., and Frank H. Wielandy, of St. Louis. The primaries will be held in August.

How To Achieve Beauty

By MME. HELEN E. RUBINSTEIN
Noted Beauty Expert

THE FEMINIZED BOB

The feminized mode of coiffure is delightful for the very young, charming for the not so very young, and gracious in the extreme to the matron who is not young at all.

For the very young it can be achieved by soft waves, distractingly impudent tight curls, and even very soft feminine bangs on the forehead, arranged, if you please, with the skill and art of a master! For the matron of an uncertain age, chignon and transformation are very much the vogue.

One very lovely headdress is exceptionally attractive for the slender, youthful type of girl. The hair is parted in the center, worn with bangs very slightly curving on the forehead, and has a very soft wide wave. The ends of the sides, which are brought forward on the cheek, have blunt square ends. Pointed ends are slowly going out. General useage has killed them for the smart woman.

A second arrangement, which is particularly good for wear with evening clothes, is very much the same, except the bangs are not in evidence and a medium sized chignon appears at the back.

A third feminine hairdress is reminiscent of a statue of Pallas Athene I viewed recently in Paris. Tiny tight, round curls completely cover the back of the head. The sides are curled over—not under, which is demode—and are arranged with exact precision. In the coiffure the pointed back appears. Incidentally it is a coiffure especially adapted to the smart woman with a rather long, slender neck.

Some Parisian masters choose to interpret the style with the loose clustered masses of ringlets, which you may perhaps have seen in pictures of the Empress Josephine. The fashion is distinctly Empire—and very feminine—but your hair must be almost shoulder length to achieve it.

An interesting, although somewhat radical hair arrangement, is already much seen in Paris, and is beginning to take hold in New York and other Cosmopolitan centers. It resembles nothing so much as a cock's comb of massed curls down the center of the head from front to back.

I can hardly recommend this as a style for general use, but perhaps as an occasional evening coiffure it may be very effective.

Virtually anything soft, loose and feminine is bound to be correct. The curls of a forgotten era, whether they be the snail shell curls of Greek statuary, the loosely clasped ringlets of the pre-Revolutionary era in France—or the precise arrangement of the Empire period, are all good—all very much in style and all easily adaptable to the average woman. Experiment a little, and remember when you achieve feminity you have struck a popular fashion note of today's model.

Seventeen Year Locust Does Not Eat Foliage

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG April 18—Many inquiries are coming to the Bureau of Plant Industry, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture in regard to the damage that may be expected this year from the visit of the 17-year locusts.

"These locusts are not foliage eaters" the bureau entomologists explain" "and consequently the damage will be entirely different than the damage caused by the Japanese beetle.

"The food of the locusts is secured by sucking juice from living plant tissue but even this does no particular harm to the plants. The real damage results when the female locusts cut slits in the tender bark of twigs into which they deposit their eggs. When these eggs hatch the larvae cause further splitting of the bark which greatly weakens the twig. Decay often starts and the heavy winds of summer with the additional growth of the twigs soon cause the small limbs to break down."

The locusts are expected to make their appearance during the latter part of May and will likely be most abundant during June and July. They are usually most common in or near wooded areas.

Saved from trip to hospital

Doctor told this man how to avoid a common cause of rupture

LIKE so many, this man had a slight tendency to hernia. The doctor who examined him said there was no real rupture, only a weakness.

"Go easy," he warned, "and above all don't strain yourself in any way. One of the most common causes of rupture is excessive straining to relieve a congested system. Yet so few people ever suspect it. For one thing, take Nujol regularly. It will probably save you a trip to the hospital. I advise all my patients who've had abdominal operations to take it, too, to avoid the danger of another break."

Nujol, taken regularly, avoids this risk. It provides an easy, natural method of regulating body functions. Keeps everything normal without effort. It not only prevents the excess of body poisons (we all have them) from forming, but aids in their removal.

A surprising number of people — men especially — are susceptible to hernia. Take a tip from this man's experience and play safe. Take Nujol regularly. Nujol was perfected by the Nujol Laboratories of the Standard Oil Company (New Jersey). Try it for 3 months and you'll never want to be without it again.

In good shape again

It certainly can do no harm to try it. Nujol contains absolutely no drugs or medicine. And it may save you real trouble. Be sure you get the genuine.

Two Ways to Spend Money on Streets

One is to keep on resurfacing and patching an old pavement. This is expensive, and the street is never satisfactory—never smooth.

The other is to repave with portland cement concrete. This is economical, because concrete is rigid and strong. It stays smooth as built. It is the safest pavement in bad weather.

Highway Department Requires 116,000,000 Envelopes Annually

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, April 18.—Enough envelopes are used by the bureau of motor vehicles, Department of Highways, each year to send a letter to every man, woman and child in Pennsylvania. The population of the Commonwealth, as estimated by the United States Census Bureau, is 9,850,000 while for the licensing of motor cars in Pennsylvania there will be used in 1929 a total of 9,610,000 envelopes.

All the printing and publishing for the Commonwealth is handled by the bureau of publications of which John C. Dight is the director. The orders for this large amount of envelopes are placed direct with manufacturers who make a specialty of the kind of envelopes in which the automobile license plates and the drivers' permits are mailed to the public. Under the contract the delivery of envelopes must begin not later than July 1 of this year and the entire supply must be on hand by September 1, ready for the bureau of motor vehicles to start the work for issuing the 1929 automobile licenses. In addition the Department of Highways uses about 7,000,000 envelopes in sending out mail circulars and other activities in connection with the highways of Pennsylvania.

Kittanning Will Get River Lock

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 18.—Practically all of the $4,200,000 provided for the Allegheny river under the river and harbor allotments will be used for the construction of a lock and dam at Kittanning Pa., Major Jarvis J. Bain government engineer for the Pittsburgh district said Tuesday.

Plans for the work have already been approved and it is hoped to begin work by July 1 he said if arrangements for the removal of a bridge now blocking the river can be made with Kittanning officials. This bridge, Major Jarvis pointed out prevents boats from reaching the proposed lock.

Under the head of open channel work $3,000 has also been provided for the Allegheny river. This will be used in the repair work of dykes along the upper regions of the river Major Bain said.

Consistory Dinner To Attract Throng

Many Members Coming From Towns Of Western Pennsylvania District

Members of the New Castle Consistory and members of their families are looking forward to the dinner party and dance at the Cathedral Friday evening. It will be the second event of the kind held at the Cathedral this spring and promises to be largely attended.

The Committee in charge has made extensive arrangements for the event and a large crowd is expected. The menu will be the average and following the dinner will be cards and dancing. An excellent orchestra has been secured for the occasion and an enjoyable time is assured those who attend.

General Banquet Chairman W. J. Moffatt and Chairman of the Dinner, T. W. Dickey are anxious that those who desire to attend should sign their cards and forward them at once in order that they can get an idea how many to prepare for. Over one hundred cards have been received from out of town members, quite a few being from Meadville, Butler, Franklin and the Beaver Valley.

As this will likely be the last event of the kind before the Spring Reunion which is to be held May 16, 17, and 18 every effort is being made to make it the crowning event of the season.

The newly organized Legion of Honor members will be guests of honor. They will meet in the east lodge room and with their wives will march to the banquet hall in a body. The members of the Legion will wear their new caps while special paper caps have been secured for the ladies.

Members of the Service Division, the organization that is always on hand to render assistance for anything that is scheduled for the Cathedral will be out in force and will do all in their power to add to the evening's enertainment.

The dinner Friday evening is for the members of the Consistory, their families and guests and those who attended the first event will look forward to the one Friday night as a much better program has been arranged for than was carried out at the former dinner.

W. O. (Red) Williams will be on hand to conduct the community singing and has several surprises for the evening's guests.

Federated Bible Classes Have Dinner

Men's Organization Meets Tuesday Evening In Third U. P. Church

Federated Men's Bible classes of the city churches enjoyed a dinner and get-together meeting Tuesday evening in the Third U. P. church.

An elaborate chicken dinner was served at 7 o'clock in the banquet hall at attractively appointed tables by the ladies of the congregation. Covers were arranged for about 80.

The after dinner address was made by Rev. George M. Landis, pastor of the First Baptist church. Rev. Landis spoke on "Personal Work".

His talk was very interesting and instructive along the line of personal evangelism. The president of the organization, W. H. Butler, presided. The purpose of the federated classes is to create a greater interest among the men of the Bible schools in personal work and to make a greater effort in getting men in the Bible school and church.

A similar dinner will be held next Tuesday evening. The place will be announced later.

Are Autos Dangerously Polluting Air Of Cities?

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Surgeon General H. S. Cumming of the U. S. Public Health Service, has recently announced the results of a survey undertaken to ascertain whether or not a health hazard from carbon monoxide existed in the streets of our large cities, inside of auto busses and in repair shops. Fourteen of the largest cities in the country were visited, having a combined population of over 19,000,000, and two hundred fifty samples of air were obtained for carbon monoxide analysis. These samples were analyzed by the iodine pentoxide method, using a liquid air cooling tube which was shown to be necessary in order to eliminate gasoline vapor, a substance which tends to vitiate the results of the analysis. The street samples were taken in such a manner as to approach the most congested conditions that may exist at a busy traffic intersection. Hence it is felt that these results indicate the maximum hazard that may exist today in the metropolitan thoroughfares from automobile exhaust gas. The average of 141 tests made in city streets at peak hours of traffic showed a contamination of 0.8 per cent of carbon monoxide per 10,000 parts of air. Only 24 per cent of all the street samples had more than one part of carbon monoxide in 10,000 of air and in oly one location, a covered passageway, were there as much as 2 parts per 10,000. Samples taken inside of auto busses yielded even lower concentrations of carbon monoxide gas. The figures for street air, when viewed in the light of present day standards of exposure to carbon monoxide, do not reveal the existence of a health hazard from this source in our city streets. The only individual who may possibly be exposed to a health hazard from inhaling street air containing automobile exhaust gas is the traffic officer. This potential hazard may be minimized by diminishing the duration of exposure at the most congested traffic stations.

On the other hand, of the 102 tests made in 27 garages in the 14 cities visited, the average carbon monoxide content was found to be 2.1 parts in 10,000. More than half of the samples (59 per cent) contained over 1 part of carbon monoxide and 18 per cent of all the samples contained over 4 parts of this gas in 10,000 parts of air. These results for repair shops show a dangerous condition that demands the serious consideration of those concerned. This hazard is repair shops may be reduced to a minimum by not allowing the motors of automobiles to run longer than 20 seconds unless the car is in necessary motion or the exhaust is connected to the outside air by a direct, airtight outlet of ample caliber. Without such outlet no automobile engine should be allowed to run indoors, except to reach its berth or to leave, by the shortest route. All of these samples were taken in garages of considerable size. The great danger to life is unquestionably in the small private garage containing one or two cars. Under any circumstances the discharge or an automoile exhaust into a roofed enclosure should be regarded as a hazardous act.

HARRY M. LONG
Candidate for General Assembly from the New Castle District,

favors the passage of legislation whereby estates, where there are direct heirs, are given an exemption from inheritance taxes on at least $10,000.00 on the value of the estate. To avoid the constitutional provision on class legislation it seems all estates must be given this exemption despite the size of the estate. With a $10,000.00 exemption, however, all estates which are really needy would benefit and parents, children, and the wife or husband would not suffer. In case nephews, ccusins, and other "collateral" heirs take the estate, or part of it, no such exemption should be made.

Mr. Long favors the legislation necessary to have the voters of Pennsylvania vote upon the establishment in this State of pensions for aged and indigent persons.

Mr. Long does not favor the passage of legislation which will tend to lower the standards required of persons practicing "the healing arts".

(POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT)

To the Voters of the 2nd Legislative District

As it will be impossible for me to see personally all the Republican voters of the district before the primary election next Tuesday, I take this method of soliciting your support for the office of General Assembly.

I was a candidate for this office four years ago and came in second with four contestants in the race.

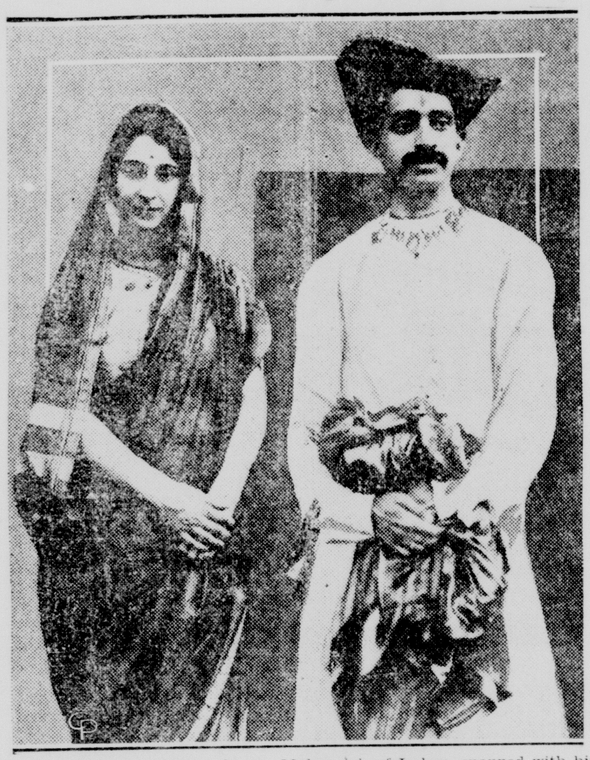

Mr. Bickett, my only opponent was given his second term, two years ago, without any opposition, which has been the custom of the party.

He also benefitted by the extra session called by Gov. Pinchot.

Mr. Bickett is now asking for his third term and fourth session. Any support given me will be much appreciated.

New Castle Man's Health Troubles Are Swept Away

Feels Fine, After Ten Herbs Banished Stomach, Liver and Bowel Diserders.

"Ten Herbs swept away my health troubles, and made me feel fine in every respect," was the statement of Mr. Sam DeStefano, 373 East Washington Street, New Castle, to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington St., this city, where he is daily demonstrating this great natural medicine to crowds of people.

MR. SAM DESTEFANO

"Before using Ten Herbs, I did not have any appetite, and what little I ate, distressed me," continued Mr. DeStefano, who is proprietor of a barber shop and beauty parlor. "I was troubled with gas on my stomach. My kidneys seemed to be disordered, as I had pains across my back that were severe at times. I did not get much sleep, as I had to arise often during the night. My liver was lazy, and I had dizzy spells every now and then. I was nearly always constipated, and sometimes felt so bad that I could hardly work.

"After taking Ten Herbs, my appetite is fine, and gas has left my stomach. I sleep soundly, and do not have to arise during the night. My bowels have been regulated, and my kidneys are in good condition, as the pains have left my back. Dizzy spells have disappeared. Ten Herbs gave me such good results that I do not hesitate to recommend it to the public."

Every day the glad news reaches the ears of the Ten Herbs man that scores are finding the way to perfect health by using the celebrated herbal compound, Ten Herbs. More and more it is being used and recommended by the people of this section, many of whom report that this new medicine has given amazing results in relieving disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, after they had tried many other medicines in vain. Ten Herbs also benefits the kidneys, cleanses the entire system, and relieves the aches and pains of rheumatism and neuritis.

The Ten Herbs Man is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine. He will be glad to tell you how to take it to get the best results. Free sample given.

Young Woman Is Struck By Auto

Accident Occurs On Long Avenue On Tuesday Evening; Mishap Reports

One person was struck by an automobile among the several accidents reported to the police last night.

Fred Kosel, 1010 Franklin avenue, was driving on a learners permit, going east on Long avenue at South Jefferson street and a street car was also going west on Long avenue at the same time and place, when a truck came along side the street car. Miss Annie Koginos, aged 18, 1505½ South Jefferson street, got off the truck and started to run across the street.

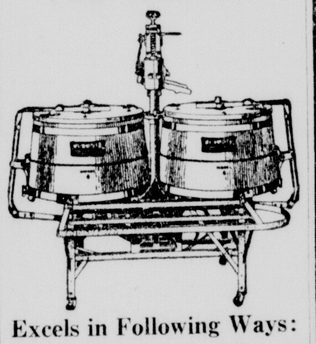

She ran right in front of the machine driven by Kosel, landing first on the fender of the machine and then being precipitated to the pavement with considerable force, when Mr. Kosel applied his brakes and stopped his machine suddenly.

Miss Koginos was taken to the New Castle hospital, where it was found that while she had sustained injuries of the back, and back of the head, that apparently her injuries were not of a serious character. At the hospital today, it was stated that her condition was not serious and that it was anticipated that she would be able to leave in a short time.

Earl Ferree of Ellwood City, R. D. No. 1, reported that he was driving a truck west on Grant street and about to turn into the first alley from Beaver street, when a car bearing Ohio license B 96-849 also going west on Grant street, ran into the rear of his machine, doing considerable damage.

Dr. F. F. Urey of 402 Laurel boulevard, reported Tuesday that he was driving east on East Falls street at Mill street, when a car bearing Pennsylvania license 763-582 and going south on Highland avenue went across the street and hit the Urey machine. Both machines were somewhat damaged.

Gas In Stomach Hurts the Heart

Thousands of Cases of Heart Failure Are Caused by Acute Indigestion, Says Medical Writer

Gas pressure from sour, acid, upset stomach is not only nauseating and highly uncomfortable but some day it may prove fatal!

When your meals are followed by bloating, a feeling of fullness or pressure, shortness of breath and pains around the heart, you may be sure that the acid condition of your stomach is producing a GAS that is pushing upwards and crowding your heart. That's the reason for the shortness of breath and sharp, shooting pains.

Whether young or old, the presence of stomach gas is truly serious and should always be given prompt and careful attention.

To quickly banish gas, cleanse and sweeten the stomach, neutralize the acidity—nothing is better than the daily or "as needed" use of ordinary Bisurated Magnesia. It gives almost instant relief.

Any good druggist can supply Bisurated Magnesia, in powder or tablet form, at very small cost—but be sure you get BISURATED Magnesia—recommended by Doctors and Druggists throughout the civilized world for more than 15 years.

PROSPECT, Pa., April 18. — Miss Jennie Wilson and sister, Miss Mary Wilson, who spent the winter in New Castle, have returned to their home, corner of Butler and Jackson streets. The ladies are pleased to be at home again, ready for house-cleaning and garden work.

Mrs. Locke and Mr. and Mrs. Byers of New Castle were the guests of Mrs. Amanda Albert, a recent Sabbath, Mrs. Locke and Mrs. Albert are sisters, nee Shellatree, and were among the belles of Dutch Hollow, Center township, more than a half century ago.

State Guard Has $14,000,000 Of U. S. Property

Co-Operates Closely With Federal Authorities In Training

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, April 18.—Pennsylvania's National Guard has $14,000,000 worth of federal property which has been issued to it under provision of the national defense act. Property reports compiled Tuesday in the office of Adjutant General Frank D. Beary revealed the extent to which the federal government is aiding the commenwealth in maintenance of what is considered part of "the first line of defense."

The federal property has been issued to the various organizations of the guard or is in storage at the military reservation at Mt. Gretna and in the state arsenals at Harrisburg.

Plans of the adjutant general's department call for complete equipment for approximately 18,000 men, although the active strength of the guard is 12,000.

Participation by the federal government in training and equipping the guard has increased rapidly since the passage of the national defense act.

Federal instructors in the various branches are stationed generally with regimental or battalion headquarters or organizations, and supervise the training of the troops. All of these instructors are under command of a senior officer, who is stationed in the office of the division commander.

Under the present system of training it is possible to follow federal standards so that if the guard is called into federal service a minimum of additional work will be necessary.

Leaves Hair Twice as Beautiful

In a few minutes time, your hair is soft, silky and radiant with life, gloss and lustre.

To have beautiful, fresh looking hair is simply a matter of proper shampooing.

While your hair must have frequent and regular washing to keep it beautiful, it cannot stand the harsh effect of ordinary soaps. The free alkali in ordinary soaps soon dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.

That is why discriminating women, everywhere, now use Mulsified Cocoanut Oil Shampoo. This clear, pure and entirely greaseless product brings out all the real beauty of the hair and cannot possibly injure.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather which cleanses thoroughly and rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

It leaves the hair soft, silky and easy to manage and makes it fairly sparkle with new life, gloss and lustre.

You can get Mulsified Cocoanut Oil Shampoo at any drug store.

A four-ounce bottle lasts for months.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

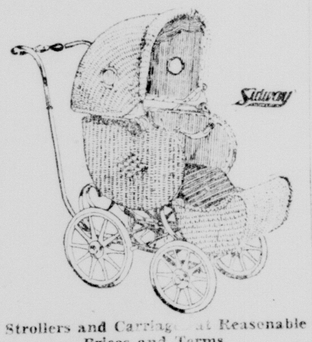

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative mixed with olive oil.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night to keep right. Try them. 15c, 30c, 60c.

Muster Day Is Observed

Spanish War Veterans Have Notable Gathering At Legion Home Last Night

REYNOLDS PRESIDES OVER NIGHT'S PROGRAM

Fourth anniversary of the starting of the Auxiliary to Daniel Leasure Camp, United Spanish American War Veterans and also the anniversary of Muster day as it is known to the veterans of the Spanish American War was observed last night at the Legion Home by the members of both organizations.

It took the form of a tureen dinner served at 6:30 o'clock by the auxiliary to the members of the camp. Not only was a very fine dinner served by the committee in charge consisting of Mrs. Edward Carr chairlady; Mrs. H. M. Fulton and Mrs. John Scott, but the dining room was decorated in a very effective maner with the national colors predominating. The centerpiece was a basket of geraniums. Places were set for 63 persons.

After the dinner Walter S. Reynolds assumed his duties as master of ceremonies.

The program was opened with the singing of America by those present and under the leadership of Mrs. L. G. Nail. Mrs. Scott Hamilton then gave a most interesting history of the auxiliary and closed with a pela for a greater reverence for the flag and the things it represents. Mrs. Hamilton showed that the membership of the auxiliary had doubled and that practically all charter members were present.

L. G. Nail spoke on Muster Day outlining the incidents that resulted in the war with Spain, the mustering in of the men for servive at that time and the things that have transpired since as a result of that war.

Orville Vanhorn, senior vice commander stood with his right hand upraised, with the other veterans of the war and repeated the oath and other obligations taken 30 years ago. The Star Spangled Banner was then rendered. The balance of the evening program included vocal and piano selections and a solo dance by Mary Elizabeth Suber. Then followed games for which prizes were given.

The next meeting will be held in two weeks at which time Mrs. E. J. Suber head of the auxiliary and Emmett Kurtz, commander of the Spanish American War Veterans will appoint committees for observance of Memorial Day also designate persons to visit the various schools.

Among those responsible for the success of the occasion last night were former Mayor and Mrs. W. H. Dunlap, Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Suber and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nessle.

Attempt Made To Murder Gangster

Noted North Side Gangster In Chicago Victim Of Attack By Enemies

OFFICIALS FEAR STREET FIGHTING

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, April 18.—Jack McGurn, reputed North Side gang leader and former aid of "Scarface Al" Capone, was reported in hiding today after miraculously escaping death from machine gun bullets.

McGurn's bullet-riddled sedan was found deserted at a street intersection last night. It was at first believed McGurn had been assassinated and his body spirited away by his gangster enemies. The door near the driver's seat was literally shot away.

Police today learned McGurn was in hiding with friends. It was not the authorities he feared, but the vengeance of his enemies, police said. Last night's attempt was the second on his life within three months. After the first attack, in which he was wounded, McGurn said:

"I'll take care of them when I get well."

With that in mind, police were girding today for a resumption of the deadly street fighting that marked gangster feuds here in the past.

Heavily armed squads were dispatched to round up all known gangsters and suspicious characters.

Missing Salesman Is Believed Slain By Bootleg Gangs

Believe Bootleg Gangs Murdered Prospective Prohibition Agent

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, April 18.—William Harold Dunstand, missing Doylestown salesman, was murdered by a gang of bootleggers state troopers at the Reading barracks revealed today after an all-night grilling of Calvin E. James, 26, of this city.

Police then arrested Gus Schaffer, of Drexel Hill for questioning regarding the murder.

Captain James Corcoran of Upper Darby also has ordered his men to search isolated sections in Delaware county for the bullet-riddled body.

Troopers claimed they learned Dunstan had been shot by the bootleggers because they feared he might attempt to extort money from them. Dunstan is alleged to have known members of the gang.

Both James and Schaffer have denied having slain the prospective prohibition agent. Dunstan had recently passed an examination for the position of a federal prohibition agent but had not yet received an appointment.

James and Schaffer will be questioned further by District Attorney M. Eastburn in Doylestown.

Open Bids On New School At Princeton

Expect To Award Contract For One-Story Building In Few Days

At a meeting of the board of school directors of Slippery Rock township held Tuesday evening, April 17, in the school building at Princeton, bids for the contract of erecting a new consolidated one-story building for the township were opened and the directors expect to award the contract within a few days, according to Albert Thayer, architect.

Bids were received about three weeks ago on the contract but the directors decided that they could do better by readvertising for bids and the bids of the different contractors opened at the meeting last night show that a considerable saving can be made.

The lowest bid on the general contract was made by the Snyder Construction company of Ellwood City with a bid of $28,980. The lowest bids on the plumbing and the heating and ventilating contracts were made by the R. T. Withers Sons company with a bid of $2087 on the plumbing and $7175 on the heating and ventilating. The William M. Clark and company bid $2500 on the plumbing and $7875 on the heating and ventilating. The Marvin Electric company was the only bidder on the electric wiring with a bid of $846.

Alternate bids were made on a hot air furnace and central fan system of ventilation instead of a steam heating system and unit system of ventilating. The Columbus Heating & Ventilating company of Columbus made a bid of $6980. The 20th Century Heater company $7172 and the McClasky company of Youngstown bid $7800.

Other bids on the general contract were: M. Carcaise & Sons of Rochester, Pa., at $29,487; C. C. Miller of Butler at $29,650; New Castle Lumber & Construction company at $29,675; Watson & Hogue of Ellwood City, $30,000 and Porter & Hoover of New Castle, $30,230.

The directors thought that with the present figure they could finance the project and decided to meet at the call of the president within a few days for the purpose of awarding the contract.

The building to be built is to be erected on the road from Princeton to the improved New Castle-Butler road and will be built about midway between the town of Princeton and the improved road on the east side of the road. The building will be a one-story structure containing eight rooms and a combination auditorium and gymnasium.

Save-The-Union Strike Calls Out About 1,000 Men

Officials Behind Latest Strike Movement Make Statement Today

(International News Service)

WHEELING, W. Va., April 18.—Approximately 1,000 miners in this district have joined the "save the union" strike, sponsors of the movement said today. A meeting of striking miners has been called for tonight by leaders of the "save the union" movement, in the United Mine Workers of America.

Practically all of the workers on strike are from mines in the Panhandle district, organizers said. Eight hundred were said to have walked out of the Arkwright, Boyd, Triadelphia and Rutney's mines of the Valley Camp Coal company, a subsidiary of the J. A. Paisley interests of Cleveland, O. The Elm Grove and Richland mines of the Costanzo Mining company reported that about 200 men have quit.

In a drive against pickets, state troopers arrested 10 miners at Triadelphia when they were alleged to have refused to cease picketing on the National highway.

Johnston Speaks To Kiwanians

Ellwood City Man Makes Address At Meeting At Noon Today

One of the most interesting programs of the year's schedule was presented Wednesday to the Kiwanis club in the Elks home when V. V. Johnston, a scientist of Ellwood City, spoke on "Atomic Energy".

In language that the laity could understand, Mr. Johnston said that the problem now confronting science was the transmutation of elements, and the use of atomic energy. If the energy locked up in a glass of water could be released, there would be sufficient power to drive a liner across the ocean or haul a train across the continent, he said. The ability to release these elements was the thing yet hindering its use.

An unusual musical treat was enjoyed when Henry Miller, a former Metropolitan basso, sang several numbers. He was the guest of Dr. John Foster and was accompanied by Miss Helen Foster.

Nicaraguan Canal

Its Status Viewed By Senators And What Its Cost Would Be

Route of the proposed Nicaraguan canal and insets of its sponsors.

By CHARLES P. STEWART.
Washington Correspondent for Central Press and New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Senator Edge thinks maybe a Nicaraguan canal would be a good thing.

Senator McKellar's sure o it.

Senator Edge proposes $500,000 or a survey. It's been done before but that was long ago. Geography hasn't changed but our canal requirements have.

Senator McKellar proposes $10,000,000 for a survey and other preliminaries and a $200,000,000 bond issue to build the canal.

In a dozen years argues Senator McKellar the Panama canal won't float all the shipping that will want to use it.

Perhaps not if shipping increases fast enough, admits the army engineers' office but the canal's capacity can be increased too by supplying it with more water which is what it needs now rather than more room for vessels.

It isn't as if the oceans fed the ditch The water comes from the highlands midway between them.

According to the engineers a bigger reservoir—a mere matter of money and steam shovels—would much more than treble—nearly quadruple the canal's present tonnage.

And that would be the limit-

No, answer the engineers—bring the Panama ditch down to sea level with only tide locks which would be practically no obstruction, and virtually there'd be no limit.

And this would cost?

It probably would cost about as much as a Uicaragua canal would cost, the engineers opine—around a billion.

* * *

A billion! Doesn't Senator McKellar's $200,000,000 sound rather small then? The engineers smile. About 80 per cent too small they surmise. But that's guesswork. They haven't made any very accurate esaimates yet.

However it's clear that the Nacaragua route would be quite a contract.

The proposition's a ditch about 44 miles from Greytown to the San Juan river boundary stream between Nacaraga and Costa Rica to follow the San Juan 50 miles to Lake Nacaragua; to dredge a 70 mile channel across the lake; then to ditch 16 miles to the Pacific at Brito.

A 180-mile canal compared with Panama's 50 miles—and a heap more dirt to move the engineers will take their affidavit.

A 110-foot climb by means of eight locks over the "divide" as compared with Panama's 87 feet and six locks. Senator McKellar suggests sea level at Nicaragua but "Impossible" the engineers are positive.

However, there's inland water aplenty. Lake Nicaragua covers 2,975 square miles to Lake Gatun's 150 at Panama.

"Oh it's perfectly feasible' 'agree the army engineers.

"And there won't be any strings on this canal either" points out Senator McKellar who always has chafed at the way we're tied by treaty obligations at Panama.

Likewise it's a more convenient route than Panama for nearly 80 per cent of the world's shipping not to mention the advantage of having an extra canal to fall back on in an emergency.

"Nevertheless let's look before we leap" advises Senator Edge.

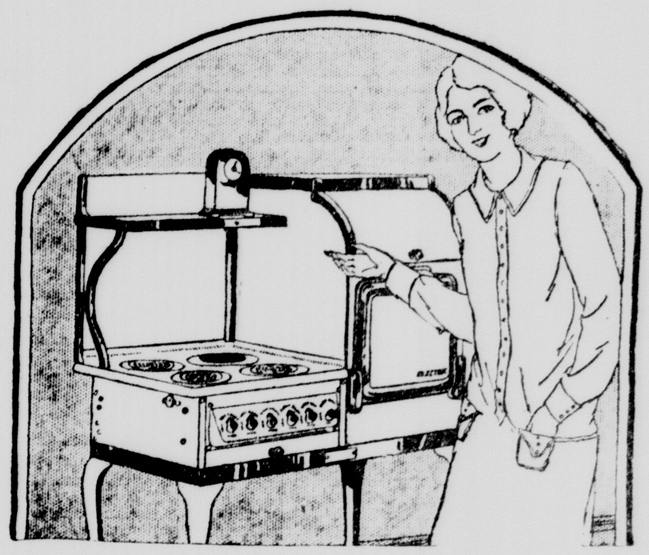

"No" insists Senator McKellar "let's leap first and look afterward."

Tomato Seeds Are Fooled By Strong Electric Light

Germinate In Four Days Under New Propagation Plan By E. C. McCracken

E. C. McCracken, fireman at the courthouse, has discovered that tomato seeds will germinate quickly under the rays of a strong electric light. Four days ago Mr. McCracken planted a paper of tomato seed in a box and placed it under an electric light in the engine room of the county jail. Today when the box was inspected by County Commissioner Philip Elder and a News reporter tomato plants one inch high were found. Mr. McCracken kept the light on the box night and day. He will now transplant the little tomato plants by separating them and placing each plant in the half of an egg shell. When they are large enough to set out in the garden, all that remains to be done is to crush the egg shell, leaving the roots in their original soil.

Concern Felt At Hospital For Mother Of Mrs. Calvin Coolidge

(International News Service)

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., April 18.—Mrs. Lemira Goodhue, mother of Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, who has been ill with influenza at Dickinson Cooley hospital, was reported "in not so good condition" today. She spent a restless night and her condition was causing some concern at the hospital this afternoon.

The hospital was in telephonic communication with the White House and it was thought possible that Mrs. Coolidge might return to the bedside of her mother.

Reeves Declares Drivers Careless

According to Councilman Clayton H. Reeves, head of the street department activities of the city, there are those among the users of trucks of various kinds, who are failing to observe the real courtesies of the highway.

In going into the outlying hill districts of the city, they find it necessary at times to use a piece of coal, a piece of stone, a brick, or other materials they are hauling to assist in preventing the trucks from going backwards. When they drive off, they leave these materials lying in the highway and in that manner causing a menace for other travelers.

This has resulted in the necessity of ordering a city truck to these hills to pick up and remove the stones.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES

The following contagious diseases were reported at the health department today: Eleanor Taylor, 318 Galbreath avenue, measles; Junior Grotefend, 801 North Mercer street, measles; Leroy and Mary E. County Agrees To Build Two Local Bridges

Lawrence And North Street Structures Decided Upon In Conference

CITY TO PROVIDE BOTH APPROACHES

At a meeting of city councilmen and county commissioners at the court house this morning an agreement was reached under which bridges are to be erected by the county at both Lawrence and North streets.

There were a number of citizens present who are interested in the erection of both bridges. Their testimony was to the effect that both are needed, and that they will assist very materially in relieving traffic conditions in the downtown section of the city.

The advocates of the Lawrence street bridge were insistent that it be built first. The North street boosters wanted that bridge built first. The county commissioners decided that it would be necessary for the city to provide the land for approaches to the bridges. The bridge to which the approach is first secured will be built first.

If the approach for one bridge only is secured this summer it will be built and the other bridge will be built next summer.

County commissioners have also decided to replace the old bridge at East Brook station with a new bridge of steel construction.

Fire Marshal Urges Thorough Clean-Up To Prevent Fires

State Fire Marshal Warns Of Dangerous Practices Liable To Cause Fires

J. W. Morgan, state fire marshal of the bureau of fire protection of the Pennsylvania state police, urges all citizens of the state to observe next week as Clean-Up Week by clearing away all accumulations of rubbish and trash from buildings and premises and thus reduce the hazards of fire.

Many fires are caused by allowing papers, boxes, etc., to accumulate in the buildings or about the premises and thus when a spark or a match falls into the rubbish, it quickly gains headway and often causes much damage.

Councils of a large number of cities prohibit the burning of rubbish, trash or leaves in streets or alleys unless they are destroyed in an improved waste burner of iron, brick or cement so arranged as to prevent the emission of sparks.

Citizens are also urged to prevent fires by examining and arranging for the repairing of defective wiring and electric equipment, defective chimneys, flues, furnaces and stove pipes. Also to avoid the use of gasoline and kerosene in starting fires and the use of gasoline in the homes for cleaning gloves, clothes, etc.

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, April 18.—Forest tree seedlings are being shipped at the rate of 500,000 a day from the state forest tree nurseries of the Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Waters. This shipping record will be maintained until the orders amounting to 12,000,000 forest trees have been delivered. Half of the entire output this year will come from the Clearfield State Forest Tree Nursery located near Clearfield. The Mont Alto State Forest Tree Nursery will ship about 3,000,000 forest trees and the remaining number will be shipped from the Greenwood State Forest Tree Nursery in Huntingdon county and the Milton State Forest Tree Nursery near Sunbury. The location of these nurseries at different points in the state afford more convenient shipping distances to private planters which involves less cost and less time for the trees in transit.

The large number of orders received indicates favorable support of the department's new plan of selling trees at $2.00 per thousand. This is the first spring that trees have been disributed under this plan which was authorized by an Act of Assembly in 1927. So great has been the demand for trees that practically all the available stock in the state forest tree nurseries has been allotted. The only species available for distribution at the present time are white pine and Scotch pine.

Senior Class To Present Comedy At Union High

School Players To Perform On Thursday And Friday Evenings

Members of the Senior Class of the Union High School will present a comedy "Beads On A String," Thursday and Friday evenings April 19-20 in the auditorium of the school.

The play is a farce thruout, and contains some excellent character parts. One of the most interesting of the characters is Ab Dinkler, a defective detective which is portrayed by Russell Funkhouser. He may be defective when it comes to detective work but he handles the part in a clever manner.

The colored maid, Cleopatra Oleomargarine, is taken by Dora Hoover.

Bennie Davis, alias Vezzalee Davis, Trenton Eckles.

Uncle Benjamin, Clayton Hoffmaster.

Mrs. Davis, mother of Bennie, Mary Snyder.

Jeanette Blue, after Uncle Ben's fortune, Hazel Allen.

Molly Mallerton, Bennie's sweetheart, Evelyn Graham.

The story begins with the arrival of Benjamin Davis, wealthy uncle of Mr. Davis. He has come to give a portion of his wealth to the child of Mr. Davis, whom he thinks is a girl. Mr. and Mrs. Davis coax Bennie to dress as a girl and introduce him as Miss Vezzalee Davis.

With Bennie portraying both the part of a boy and girl, some exciting situations are created.

Coolidge Offers Criticism To New Flood Control Bill

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 18.—President Coolidge Tuesday criticized the Jones-Reid flood control bill, passed by the seante, as pork barrel legislation.

Discussing the bill with callers, he declared no measure of such an extortionate nature ever before had been presented to congress. He said the bill would cost the government at least $1,500,000,000, as opposed to the $300,000,000 appropriation in the army engineers' flood plan.

BRAKES cause accidents or prevent them

—which kind are yours?

It only takes one skid—one emergency in which brakes fail to hold—to cause an accident. It might be slight—perhaps a jammed fender—and it might cost a life. Why gamble with chance? Brakes out of balance or not equalized will cause a car to skid to the right or left. Four-wheel brakes—when out of adjustment—add no more to your ability to stop than two-wheel brakes. Your car is only as safe as its brakes. Keep them in perfect adjustment.

We have installed a new JUMBO Giant Brake Tester that scientifically tests two or four-wheel brakes. Use our accurate test every 1500 miles. If adjustments are needed we will make them quickly—at a very reasonable charge.

See For Yourself

Right before your eyes—on accurate hydraulic gauges—the JUMBO Brake Tester reveals the true condition of the brake on each wheel. Eliminates all chance for human error—no guesswork. Assures positive equalization and perfect balance of brakes—maximum braking efficiency—"guaranteed safety!"

The Story Of The "Cow Country"—Part VII

THE COWBOY HAD TO BE CONTINUALLY ON GUARD AGAINST "RUSTLERS", LURKING THIEVES OF THE PLAINS WHO HOVERED ON THE FLANKS OF A HERD TO STEAL THE "STRAYS". SOMETIMES THE "RUSTLERS" GREW BOLDER AND TRIED TO ELUDE THE WATCHFUL OUTRIDERS AND "CUT OUT" STEERS FROM THE HERD ITSELF UNDER COVER OF DARKNESS.

THE STOLEN CATTLE WERE DRIVEN QUIETLY TO SOME SECLUDED SPOT, WHERE THE THIEVES ALTERED THE BRAND WITH WHICH THE BEASTS WERE MARKED. THIS DONE, THE "RUSTLERS" SOLD THE CATTLE AT SOME FAR DISTANT MARKET WHERE THE ALTERATION OF THE BRAND WOULD NOT BE SO EASILY DETECTED.

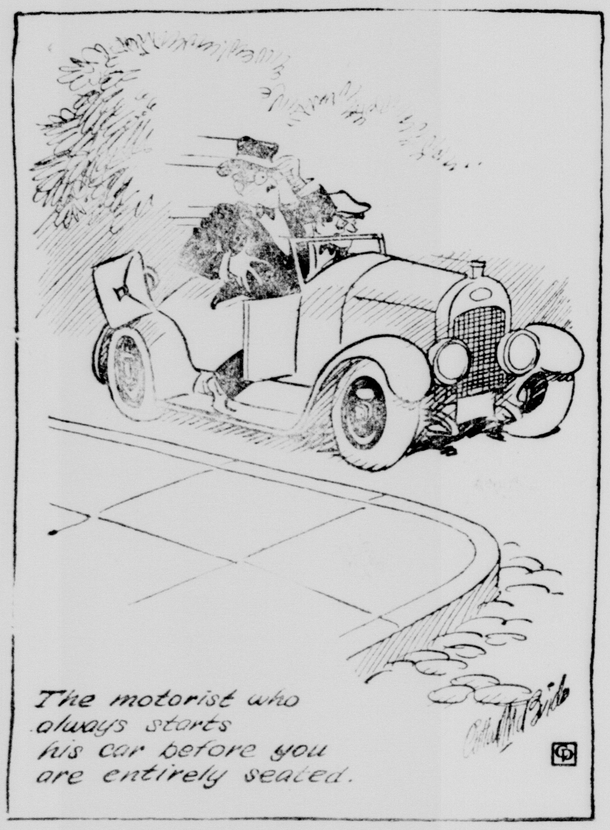

"RUSTLERS" AND HORSETHIEVES BECAME THE SCOURGE OF THE "COW COUNTRY" AND THE RANCHERS UNITED TO PROTECT THEMSELVES AGAINST THE RAVAGES OF THESE OUTLAWS. AS SOON AS A THEFT WAS REPORTED, A HEAVILY-ARMED POSSE STARTED IN PURSUIT.

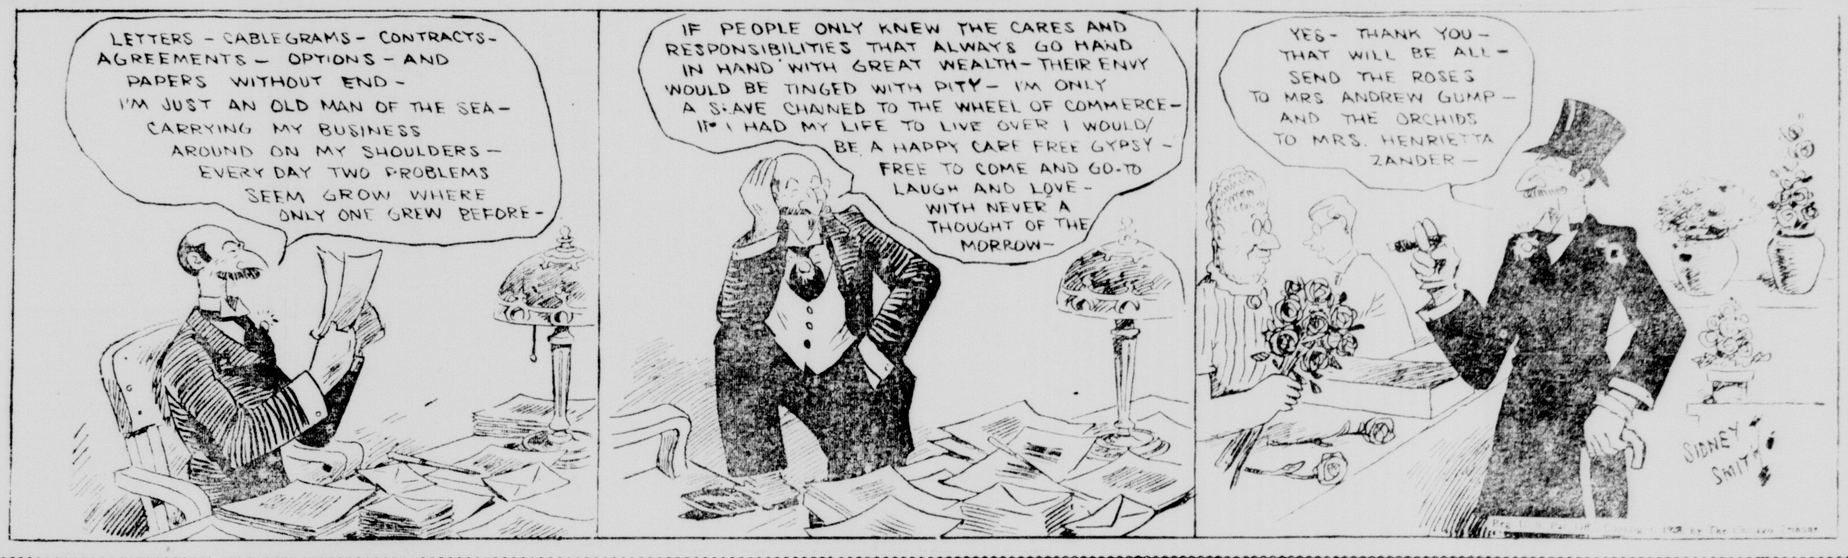

IF OVERTAKEN AND CAUGHT WITH THE STOLEN PROPERTY, THE "RUSTLERS" USUALLY RESISTED DESPERATELY, FOR THE LAW OF THE RANGE MADE STEALING THE WORST OFFENSE, AND RETRIBUTION FOLLOWED INEXORABLY AND SWIFTLY.

Heeney is heavyweight champion of New Zealand and has never been knocked out.

Writes Of Dilks From Oklahoma

Pittsburgher Says New Castle Man Is Now In Fine Condition

A letter written at Bristow, Okla., on Sunday, April 15, by J. R. Thorn, former Pittsburgher, concerning Earl Lin Dilks, the New Castle runner in the C. C. Pyle cross-country bunion race, says that Dilks is progressing nicely.

That Dilks is reserving his strength for the last thousand miles was the keynote of the letter. The New Castle man is taking things rather easy at present, but manages to stay with the bunch.

The letter:

Ed Fritz,
New Castle, Pa.

Dear Sir:—I just left Earl Lin Dilks, New Castle's entry in cross-country bunion derby, he was downtown eating. He seems to be in very good shape and said to tell you that he is taking things easy and putting on weight, and is also gaining strength for the final stretch.

He has been troubled with a bad ankle the last week or so but says that it is in fine shape again.

Arthur Newton, the South African runner, was at the same table with us and he and Earl are rooming together, and Newton is giving the New Castle boy plenty of good advice.

There is nothing the matter with Dilks' appetite as far as I could see, and he ate a very hearty meal. He was still eating when I left him.

Yours truly,
J. R. THORN,
A former Pittsburgher.

Prefers To Meet Dempsey In June

"I'll Either Meet Dempsey In June Or Never", Says Tunney

GENE STARTS TO DO DICTATING

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

NEW YORK, April 18.—In the wake of George L. Richard's return to the land of the sky blue cheek bone came a potpurri of affirmations today that seemed to prove that full details of the bout in July for the world's heavyweight championship—including the selection of Thomas Heeney, the honest bologney, as challenger—are being very capably handled by James Joseph Tunney.

The first of these, as should be, proved to be the most important. It was to the effect that Tunney had more to do with Jack Dempsey's "retirement" than any other individual identified with the matter, not exclusive of Dempsey himself. Tunney was said to have effected this pass by insisting that Dempsey fight him in June or not at all. The alternative being more in keeping with Dempsey's idea of the situation, proved to be the more acceptable, it seems.

June or Never, Says Gene

"Dempsey either will fight me in June or he will not fight me again at any time," Tunney was quoted as having declared. "Unless he accepts the June date I know he won't fight me again because I shall refuse to fight him."

The man to whom this statement was made was in New York today and his word can be accepted as thoroughly reliable. He declared that Tunney had gone on to explain that his two-fight plan had been predicated on this program: first, Dempsey; second, the winner of the elimination tournament.

Dempsey, it seems, refused to be the first victim and was ruled off the turf, pronto, making further build-up of the elimination contender unnecessary. The choice of Heeney was then made by Tunney over the strenuous objection of Jess McMahon, who not only makes Rickard's matches but most of his decisions. He didn't make this one, because it already had been made for Rickard by the champion.

Rickard himself admitted this today, according to Danny Dunn, manager of Johnny Risko, who called upon the promoter to discover, if possible, what had happened to the heavyweight elimination tournament. The admission as directly contradictory to Rickard's personal statement to newspapermen yesterday, but then, if you must try to follow these gentlemen around you will do well to pick your hobby horse before the best of them are gone.

In line with this Rickard declared yesterday that he, personally, had picked July as the date for the enterprise because he felt it would work out just as favorably as an engagement in September. From sources close to both men it was discovered today that Rickard yielded on this point only after a prolonged protest. Brother Tunney, it seemed, desired to tour Europe later in the season and had no wish to have his plans upset by a promoter's whim.

Further evidence of Brother Tunney's domination is contained in the declaration that McMahon wired Rickard in Florida just before the Heeney announcement, advising him not to "fall for Charley Harvey's bunk"; that Risko and Heeney would draw as well as Tunney and Heeney, that Risko would sign for Tunney for 10 per cent, and that he would fight as champion, if any, on a percentage basis. Rickard used to take McMahon's counsel in matters of this kind. There is an old and thoroughly reliable adage which deals with the fact that a man cannot serve two masters.

Weather Holds Up Track Practice At Grove City College

GROVE CITY, Pa., April 18. — The track coaches at Grove City are doing their best, in spite of cold, wet weather, to bring their squad to somewhere near the marks which may be counted upon from the individual members of the squad. An intra-mural meet will be conducted next Saturday in order to give the candidates a tryout before the opening of the inter-collegiate schedule the Saturday following.

The most promising men at the present time are: Schumm for the dashes; Bartlebaugh, Linn, and McPhee for the quarter; Arnold for the half; Evans and Shockey for the distances; Thomas and Bartlebaugh for the hurdles; Burke, Connor, Gurney, and Kingsley for the high jump; Day for the pole vault; Thomas for the broad jump; Sofish and McConnell for the shot put; MDcClosky for the hammer; Pflug for the discus. Undoubtedly there are some other good men in school for these events, and it is to be hoped that they come out within the next few days.

Ryantown Team Stages Practice

All members of the Ryantown baseball team of the Lawrence County Twilight league are asked to report for practice each evening this week, weather permitting.

Any team wishing to schedule the Ryantown team for a practice game can arrange same by calling Elmer Robinson or W. G. Haney.

The Ryantown team last year captured the first half championship in the Twilight league and were defeated by the Lawrence Indies for the title.

Frank Frisch, the St. Louis Cardinal star, can always be relied upon to crack the sphere (or egg, as some of the boys would have it) for an average better than .300.

Since 1920 the former Fordham flash hasn't hit below that mark.

In world's series competition when heavy hitters are apt to fall down on their bat busting, Frisch has set a record of being the only man to hit .300 or better in four of the post season classics.

In the only four series Frankie has played in he has set the following marks with his stick: 1921, .300; 1922, .347; 1923, .400, and 1924, .333.

Cleveland Indians Are Surprising Fans

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, April 18—With the infant baseball season of 1928 entering its second week today, unexpected strength has developed in the Western section of the American Lague. The Cleveland Indians, finding soft pickings in the toothless Detroit Tigers, have passed the St. Louis Browns and are now perched in second place. The Forest City outfit is the first club in either league to win five games.

Good pitching by Messrs. Uhle, Shaute, Hudlin et al., has given the Indians a better start than their supporters had anticipated. Two rookies, Lind at second base and Langford in center field, are coming along nicely. The old guard—Burns, Jamieson, Summa and Sewell brothers, are enjoying a new lease on life.

Cleveland handed the Tigers their sixth defeat yesterday 6 to 4. Jack Tavener, Detroit midget, got his annual home run. Paul Neasterling, obtained by the Tigers from Seattle, was substituted for robust Robert Fothergill in the Detroit outfield and delivered three hits.

The White Sox won another victory, 4 to 2, at the expense of the St. Louis Browns, who dropped to fourth place. Ted Lyons was effective in the pinches.

The Chicago Cubs jumped to second place in the National League by nosing out the Cardinals in the tenth, 3 to 2. Percy Jones, the slender south paw, outpitched Alexander the Great and scored the winning run on Cuyler's single. Earl Webb, understudy for Chicago's home run hitter, Hack Wilson, hit his second homer of the season.

Nearly 50,000 fans are expected to jam Wrigley Field today when the Cubs open their home season against Cincinnati.

Rain and cold weather held all other teams idle yesterday.

Diamond Notes

The Vagabond Nine would like to schedule games with the following teams: Ryantown Cubs, Indians, Pontiacs and any other first-class junior team between the ages of 13 and 16 years. For games call 3006R and ask for Kenny, or call 4234M and ask for Decker. All members of the team are asked to report at Boyles Field at two o'clock on Saturday afternoon.

The North Highland Midgets swamped the Pontiacs by a score of 8 to 1. It was the first game of the year for both teams and it proved highly interesting. The same teams will battle tomorrow at Colonial Field.

The Indian baseball team has reorganized for the coming season and is about ready to start the 1928 campaign. The team is composed of boys ranging in age from 12 to 17 years. Following is the roster of the club: H. Smith, C. Smith, Eakin, Clark, Hiles, Hammond, A. Uram, J. Uram, Knat, Young, Ziegler, Garbett, McKay and Mainio. For games with the Indians call 4473 and ask for H. Smith.

The Eagles desire games with all fast midget teams in the city and county. For games call 5198R and ask for Bill Burdette.

Handy Candy

By Feg Murray

When Rogers Hornsby was traded to Boston, speculation was rife as to who would play second base for the Giants in 1928. McGraw opened the training season with Andy Cohen, young Jewish star, who had had such a successful season with Buffalo of the International League, in 1927. Andy immediately showed himself to be such a handy man about the keystone sack, and evinced such a keen desire to learn and so fine a temperament, that he caused many a sports writer and many an old-time player to say or write words of praise about him.

What pleased McGraw most of all, probably, about Cohen's work at Augusta, was his increased confidence over 1926, when he was up for a trial with the Giants, and his serious study and application to his job at hand. Andy asked much inside dope on the intricate business of batting and fielding from Ty Cobb and Hans Lobert, and learned many helpful things from each of these grand old veterans.

Andy Cohen was born in a baseball town, Buffalo, on October 25, 1904. Babe Ruth was born there and Wilbert Robinson lived there. The Cohen family soon moved to Texas, the home of the great Hornsby, whose shoes Andy is now trying to fill. Later on this studious young Jewish boy went to the University of Alabama, where he starred in sports. Alabama has sent many ball players to the major leagues—Joe and Luke Sewell, for instance—and Andy learned his baseball well there.

In appearance Cohen resembles Dan Mendoza, greatest of Jewish prizefighters. He has a hooked nose, high cheek bones, piercing black eyes, and black hair. More important, he is fast on his feet, and blessed with a nimble brain.

FEG MURRAY SAYS

"As I neared the end of C. C. Pyle's cross-country marathon," went on Baron Munchausen, "I was going at such a terrific rate of speed that, in order to stop at the Yankee Stadium, I had to begin to slow down at Buffalo."

Sport Ritticisms

By BILL RITT

Outboard motorboat racing is becoming popular again. Probably, because people have discovered that you can make more noise that way than any other.

* * *

A pop-pop skiff going full speed can make the battle of the Marne sound like a couple of turtle doves cooing in the sign language.

* * *

Many motorboat enthusiasts never watch a race. They stay home and hear it. It's the only spectacle in the world that's tough on the ear drums.

* * *

Riding a gas gondola is one way of taking a bath without benefit of tub. The whole business is a sort of motorized swim.

* * *

Speed boats were invented for sailors who were in a hurry. Since then pedestrians haven't been the only fish run down by motor vehicles.

* * *

Life belts are as necessary in a motorboat race as razors in a barber shop. When a speed skiff decides to do a nose dive there's no time for the pilot to get a transfer to another job.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN
Staff Writer for Central Press and New Castle News.

"As far as timing goes, I don't know of a greater hitter in baseball than Rogers Hornsby."

This is the frank compliment paid the National league star by Billy Evans, who called balls and strikes on Babe Ruth and other great hitters of the American league and National league (at intervals) over a period of 20 odd years as umps.

"The fact that a ball is driven over the fence for a home run does not necessarily mean that it is a perfectly timed hit," Evans went on to explain, after making the remark during a general fanning bee.

"The perfectly timed hit is one that goes directly through the pitcher's box, over second, and into center field. A ball that is hit to right fieid by a right-handed batter has been sliced—to use golf parlance. A ball that has been hit to left field has been hooked.

"But a ball that is driven on a line just over the head of the pitcher, through second and beyond, has been met squarely and accurately by the batter.

"I think that if you were to watch Hornsby's hitting through a long run of games you would find that he hits more of this tpye than any other player.

"There are two reasons, however, why Babe Ruth, mighty hitter that he is, does not get such perfect timing behind his hitting.

"First of all, he gets more bad balls at which to swing. The batter can't get perfect timing behind a high ball outside or a high or low ball inside the plate, quite obviously. It is impossible to obtain the proper leverage to your swing.

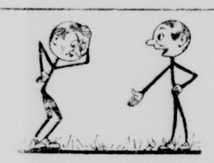

"The pitcher rarely takes the chance of slipping a cripple by him. On the other hand, Hornsby rarely fails to outguess the pitcher when the latter attempts a cripple. And it is these 'cripples', coming through the heart of the plate, that give him a chance to time his swing perfectly.

"Also, perfection in timing is related directly to the speed of the batter's swing. Ruth swings from his hips, so to speak, a long, slashing swing. Hornsby, on the other hand, takes a shorter cut at the ball, and is able to time his swing more accurately."

Speaking of timers, it is recalled that the man who startled the baseball world by buying Rogers Hornsby last year, was one of the greatest timers of the "old-timers"—John McGraw.

As a member of the old Baltimore Orioles, McGraw was a wizard at meeting the ball flush to send it shooting through the pitcher's box.

Of the "old timers" in the American league, Napoleon Lajoie was probably the greatest when it came to getting the perfect co-ordination of mind, muscle and eye that produces perfect timing.

Church Bowlers Enjoy Splendid Talk At Banquet

James C. Mace Of Pittsburgh Gives Inspiring Talk On "How Big Are You?"

Members Of Methodist Church, Winners, Enjoy Prominence At Banquet

ELLWOOD CITY, April 18.—One hundred and thirty members of the inter-church bowling league and friends enjoyed an inter-church get-together banquet Tuesday evening in the dining room of the First Baptist church. The tables were decorated in a most appropriate manner, and a delicious menu was served by the ladies of the church.

The dinner opened with a prayer pronounced by Rev. W. E. Minteer of the United Presbyterian church. Rev. A. M. Stevenson officiated as toastmaster and introduced the various parts of the program with wit and humor. An orchestra was present and furnished peppy music and was directed by Clytus Steinberger. Solos were pleasingly rendered by A. T. Metcalf, director of the United Presbyterian church choir, and Eugene Wenz, a baritone.

The address of the evening was given by James C. Mace of the Y. M. C. A. of Pittsburgh. From his wealth of experience in dealing with young men, Mr. Mace brought a most inspiring message on the theme "How Big Are You" to the local bowling enthusiasts.

W. A. Kerr presented the champion team to the banqueters and their captain, Crawford Anderson, gave a short talk on how they managed to achieve the championship. Rev Hugh Maxwell gave a short and witty toast on "Luck and Skill in Bowling", beginning his toast with such infectious humor that the entire assemblage was rocking with mirth, and concluding with a sincere tribute of a bouquet of flowers, a token of esteem for the skill of the champions. The entire evening was an unqualified success and bigger plans are afoot for the league next year.

The meeting closed with the benediction pronounced by Rev. Robert Little of the Methodist church.

Mahoning Bond Issue Discussed

Project Is Favored At Mass Meeting Of Citizens Held Last Night

Mahoning township residents held a meeting at the Hillsville school house last night to discuss the proposed $109,000 bond issue for a new 20 room consolidated school building at Hillsville.

Addresses were made by Walter Duff, Assistant Superintendent C. F. Ball, Attorney Mont Alley, Norman McClelland and others.

Sentiment expressed by the speakers favored the proposed bond issue, which is to be voted on at the coming primary.

Some time ago there was a threatened division of the township over the proposed school house, but it now appears that residents in the northern part of the township will vote for the bond issue.

It is understood that there is a tacit understanding that better school facilities will be provided for the northern part of the township later.

Commission On Real Estate Deal Must Be Settled

Opinion In Favor Of B. F. Taylor In His Suit Against Jacob Levine

In the case of B. F. Taylor against Jacob Levine, an opinion was handed down by Judge Hildebrand this morning, in which defendant's motion for a new trial and for judgment, notwithstanding the verdict are dismissed, and the prothonotary is directed to enter judgment in favor of the plaintiff.

The case was one in which suit was brought to collect a commission on a sale of property for $28,000. It was claimed by the plaintiff that after he had secured buyers who were willing to purchase the property, the deal had been made through a transfer of the property to another person and then back to the parties who had agreed to buy the property through him.

When the case was tried a jury found in favor of Taylor for a commission of $1,026.13. This verdict stands, according to the opinion.

In the case of exceptions by Anna Nocera to the second partial account of Peter G. Cameron, secretary of banking in charge of the affairs of the First State bank, opinion is deferred until the accountant has time to file certain evidence. The controversy is over $716 worth of Italian bonds which Mrs. Nocera claimed to have left at the bank for safe keeping. The banking secretary claimed that the bonds were not found among the effects of the bank, the only evidence of them being a receipt signed by Victor Doyno.

In the case of Nora Pearl Norris against Jefferson N. Craig, William N. Frantz and Minnie Frantz, the custody of Margaret N. Craig, daughter of Jefferson N. Craig, is to remain with the defendants.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 18.—Industrial stocks were carried downward at the beginning of trading today by a heavy selling wave which had its basis in the fear of an upward revision in Federal Reserve bank rates and the reported exodus of a few of the "big traders" from the street. The movement extended to the bulk of the market leaders in the steel, motor, railroad and specialty groups. Trading was in large volume in the first hour.

General Motors broke to a new low on the move at 188½. General Electric lost 4 points at 164½, and International Nickel was down 3. The oils held fairly steady, but the coppers and motors sold lower.

The oils moved downward in the second hour, losing about half of the gains acquired since Monday morning. Standard Oil of New Jersey at 43⅜, showed a loss of 2¼ points from yesterday's high and Pan Americans were down about 2 points each.

The decline was orderly, and the volume of trading fell off slightly from the same period on Tuesday. "Scale buying" was reported in the well known stocks and the demand for stocks at moderate concessions in prices was excellent.

Call money was unchanged at 5 per cent.

Believe Fall Writer Of Oil Memorandum

Senate Public Lands Committee Unearths Sensational Evidence Today

Unsigned Memorandum Has Been Capital Mystery Past Four Years

By WM. K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Fresh evidence, indicating that former secretary of the interior, Albert B. Fall, wrote the mysterious oil memorandum found in the files of the senate public lands committee in January, 1924, was unearthed today at the senate's oil inquiry.

The unsigned oil memorandum, a mystery for four years, declared Fall had never gotten a dollar from Harry F. Sinclair and that Sinclair had never "spent a dollar on Fall's ranch". If actually written by Fall, it would shatter the story that Sinclair paid $233,000 for an interest in Fall's ranch.

With Clarence C. Chase, Fall's son-in-law on the witness stand, it was shown that the memorandum apparently was written by the same person who wrote a letter to Senator Lenroot R., of Wisconsin, on December 13, 1924, and signed by Fall. Fall has never denied writing the letter.

Senator Thomas J. Walsh (D) of Montana, showed that the letter and memorandum were written on the same kind of paper and apparently on the same typewriter. Chase identified Fall's signature on the letter and admitted that the "letter and memorandum look very much the same, as though they were prepared by the same person."

Chase was recalled to the stand at the start of the session. Senator Walsh questioned him about his visit to Washington on December 2, 1923. This was two days after J. Will Harris, ranch owner, and other New Mexico people, told of Fall's sudden and unexplained wealth.

Sent By Fall

Chase explained he was sent to Washington by Fall to explain the former secretary's affluence. Before he arrived, Chase added, Fall decided to come on and tell the story himself.

Then Walsh brought out that Fall, instead of coming to Washington, went first to New York city to see Edwin L. Doheny, who had given him $100,000. It was while Fall was in New York, that he wrote the letter to Lenroot.

Walsh showed both letter and memorandum to Chase and asked him to compare them.

"They were written by the same person, weren't they?"

"I can't say definitely but they look alike," said Chase.

The witness refused to identify positively the memorandum as the work of Fall.

"They look very much the same, as though they were prepared by the same person," Chase said finally.

Senator Nye (R) of North Dakota, them brought out that both the letter to Lenroot and the mysterious memorandum were written on the same paper.

Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana was drawn into the oil case again by Chase. The latter revealed that Stewart and Henry M. Blackmer, the oil man who fled to Europe and a partner of Sinclair, had visited Fall at the latter's Three Rivers ranch in January, 1922.

Sinclair was at the ranch at the time, said Chase. This brought Sinclair, Stewart, Blackmer and Fall into a conference never before revealed.

"So far as you know, Mr. Stewart was never there more than the one time?"

"No sir."

Cleveland Man Mentioned.

Chase revealed that when Fall became suddenly wealthy in 1922 he believed the money came from Prise McKinney, Cleveland capitalist.

"Mr. McKinney was with Mr. Fall when he came back to Three Rivers with the money," said Chase. "I believed he had borrowed it from Mr. McKinney. Later after Mr. Fall went to California to visit E. L. Doheny, he told me Doheny had loaned him $100,000."

Chase said he didn't know about Fall giving Doheny a note until years afterwards. Even at the time of Fall's visit to see Doheny in New York in December, 1923, Chase said he knew nothing about the note.

Chase was very confused about his knowledge of the $233,000 Sinclair bonds that went to Fall.

He added he must have heard from Fall that the bonds were used by Sinclair to buy a third interest in the ranch.

"If I didn't get it from the newspapers I must have gotten it from Fall," he said.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—The commanding lead which Gov. Al Smith is piling up in his march toward the Democratic nomination at Houston was exemplified today by the compilation of a table showing that of the 446 delegates thus far selected he has at least 326.

If he can maintain this ratio in the primary and convention-filled weeks ahead, his nomination at Houston is assured.

His opponents particularly those from the anti-Smith southern states grimly contend that he cannot keep up this pace but irrespective of claims and counter-claims the fact remains that as of today Smith has captured approximately three-fourths of the delegates chosen instead of the required two-thirds.

The Houston convention is ten weeks away. Thus far 18 states and three territories have chosen their delegates either through primaries, state conventions or by state committees with instructions, pledges or understandings. They will comprise 21 of the 54 delegations to sit in at Houston.

There is some dispute between the Smith and Reed forces over the exact line-up in several states, notable in Oklahoma and Arkansas.

Three states, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts will choose 160 additional delegates next Tuesday and the Smith total will be increased proportionately for the organizations in Pennsylvania and Massachusetts are favorable to the New York governor. Both states supported him at Madison Square Garden four years ago.

Smith's total of 326 delegates to date is only 42 delegates less than his peak of strength on the 78th ballot at Madison Square Garden.

Thus far the New York governor has encountered but little opposition from other candidates. Reed has given him some but nothing of a strenuous nature.

The California primary two weeks hence may tell a different story however there. Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana is entered and the contest is expected to provide a showdown fight between the wets and drys. Walsh is as dry as Smith is wet and California is considered by the party leaders in Washington as an interesting field on which to stage the combat. California's 26 delegates constitute the prize.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

There are but two trees in Memorial Park. There are other trees of course, but these two, just saplings, stand out from the others somehow. They have an air of distinction which is hard to define, and yet its there. And around each of the trees is a protective wrought iron fence and on the top of the fence, a bronze plate.

Perhaps you do not recognize the name Memorial Park. It's the name of the park area of the Public Square bu some time ago was given its new name, due to the number of memorials that are in it.

But about these two young trees. As you walk through the park, stop and look at the bronze plates and you will find this on them "Dedicated to the honor of Grace M. Greer. Lawrence County Garden Club."

Now it seems to me that there could be nothing quite so appropriate as a testimonial as a tree. Memorial placques get dusty and soiled, ornate scrolls get torn, and loving cups tarnish. But a tree grows, and develops, and becomes increasingly beautiful as the years go by.

And because the work of the woman thus honored by these trees has been a similar growth, the Garden Club chose trees as their memento of memory.

It's unusual to erect public remembrances for people while they are alive, and yet a dead man never was able to appreciate a monument. And so, doing the unusual, as they usually do, the Garden Club decided to honor the work of Mrs. Greer, who for many years has been the president of the Federation of Women's Clubs. And yesterday the bronze plates were put on the ornamental iron fences around the trees.

There is nothing very spectacular about being the president of a federation of women's clubs. It's plodding work, taxing patience, and hope and courage, and sometimes the rewards of the office seem so infinitesimal. It's a labor of love and labor of this kind too often goes unrewarded. The Federation of Women's Clubs has meant much to New Castle, but because it has not been accompanied by a blare of bugles and a ruffle of drums, it has sometimes gone unnoticed.

The women of the Garden Club know and appreciate what Mrs. Greer has done for women's clubs in New Castle and while she was still the active president, decided to show her in a permanent way, their esteem. Hence the trees. And can you think of anything more beautiful, more appropriate, or in better taste?

The only wish I could add to the gift of the trees is that the lady thus honored will live to see the day when the leafy branches of the trees will cast their cooling shade over the grassy plot. I want her to live until she can see the day when tired mothers will sit down under the trees and let their youngsters romp around the grass, while they enjoy the shade the trees will afford.

As a people Americans are too prone to forget sacrificial work. A Lindbergh or a Ruth, or an Al Jolson are surfeited with honors and there is no criticism of this. But the work of a Jane Adams, or a Harvey Cushing, or a Charles Eliot is sometimes passed up for the more showy type of service. But the Garden Club has not forgotten. The work of Mrs. Greer in heading up the Federation these many years has been remembered, and the trees will stand in Memorial Park for the next hundred years, I hope, as a testimonial to work well done.

And digressing from the esthetic for a moment, the handsome ornamental iron fences are the work of a New Castle plant, the Standard Wire Company.

Good Citizenship

Following the announcement of Tuesday that the Woman's Club of this city was sponsoring Citizenship Week, the second "fact about good citizenship" is printed below.

There are bond issues coming up. Study them. Representative Fletcher of Ohio has pointed out that the three and a half billions of dollars spent in the course of a single year by the United States government would fill 94,000 one-ton trucks with silver dollars, and if these were lined up in single file, 142 trucks to the mile, there would be a procession 662 miles long. The average citizen would trudge at least 10 miles to see such a parade, but he will constantly refrain from walking a block to vote in an election deciding how that money shall be spent and who shall spend it. Apply this to state finances as well.

Corn Borer Clean Up Makes Rapid Progress

HARRISBURG, April 18.—More than 4,400 of the 16,030 farms in Erie, Crawford, Mercer and the western portion of Warren county which are in the corn borer clean up area were visited by state inspectors during the first week of inspection.

The work is progressing right on schedule according to representatives of the Bureau of Plant Industry, Pennsylvania Department of agriculture and unless extremely adverse weather is encountered every one of the 16,000 farms in addition to thousands of gardens will be visited by the inspectors before May 1.

Excellent evidence of the willingness of farmers to comply with the regulations which require the complete clean-up of all corn refuse is indicated by the fact that approximately one-tenth of all the farms visited during the first week were passed upon first inspection.

In all the territory covered the inspectors report that they were cordially received and their suggestions as to the cleaning up of corn stubble and trash were welcomed.
